

ARMS CONFERENCE IS DEADLOCKED

FOURTH TAKES HEAVY TOLL

SCORES KILLED AND INJURED AS NATION OBSERVES HOLIDAY

Ohio Proud Of Lowest
Casualty List In State
History

CHICAGO, July 5.—Scores were dead and hundreds injured in the midwest today as the result of fireworks, automobile, airplane and other accidents July 4.

In Chicago automobiles killed seven, one child was burned to death and sixty seriously injured by fireworks.

Three persons were drowned in Minnesota and four were fatal victims of automobile crashes.

Nine deaths, four of children, was the toll in California.

Forty-three lives were lost in Indiana in automobile accidents, airplane crashes, fireworks explosions and drownings.

Ethel Doane, 21, a parachute jumper, fell to her death at Indianapolis before thousands of spectators in an amusement park. The girl plunged into a tree when her parachute failed to open.

PITTSBURGH, July 5.—Fireworks and automobile accidents combined to take a toll of fifteen lives in Pennsylvania over the holiday, a survey today by International News Service showed. In addition, 154 persons were injured in similar accidents.

Charles Little, 50, his wife and two small children were killed near here when a speeding express train hit their auto. Little's four other children, all under 12 years, were critically injured and may die.

COLUMBUS, O., July 5.—Ohio today was proudly considering the lowest holiday casualty list in the state's history.

Less than half a dozen persons were killed in automobile and drowning accidents, and there was not a death reported from the use of fireworks.

Grade crossings and automobile accidents claimed nearly forty lives last Labor Day, the last general holiday on which the weather afforded comfortable motoring.

NON-STOP FLIGHT PROVES FRENCH AFFECTION FOR U. S.

PARIS, July 5.—"Any Americans who may doubt France's affection for the United States need only

HONOR FOR BYRD
PARIS, July 5.—The French cabinet today decided to grant Commander Richard E. Byrd of the "America" the Legion of Honor but first decided to ask Washington to give Byrd permission to accept the honor.

make a non-stop flight from New York to France."

This was the statement of Commander Richard E. Byrd of the America in replying today to a speech of welcome by Colonel Polimchetti at a reception given in honor of the American aviators by the thirty-fourth aviation regiment of France at Le Bourget flying field.

Byrd, the pilot of his plane, Bert Acosta, and the relief pilot, Bert Balchen were guests of honor. O. O. Noville, the other member of the crew, remained at his quarters in the Continental Hotel. Also among those present was Clarence Chamberlin, famous New York to Germany flyer.

MOVIE STUNT FLYER BROKEN HEARTED AS FLIGHT IS FAILURE

Grace Forced Back By
Faulty Rudder—
Crashes Ship

HONOLULU, July 5.—Hounded by hard luck, "Broken Neck" Dick Grace, movie stunt flyer, today gave up his dream of being the first man to fly from Hawaii to California.

Grace and his party expected to return to Honolulu from the island of Kauai tomorrow.

Four times Grace bumped down his crude runway at "Barking Sands" on Kauai, on the start of a solo, nonstop flight to California. Three times a tire blew out on the landing gear of his tiny monoplane.

The airman got away on a beautiful take-off yesterday, but after forty minutes in the air a faulty rudder forced him to return. Landing on the edge of the flying field, Grace's plane skidded and crashed. One wing was crumpled and the fuselage badly twisted.

Misfortune has hovered over Grace's project from the start. A cracked propeller held him up at first. Then followed a spell of bad weather and strong, unfriendly winds. When the weather became normal, three tire blowouts on three separate attempts to take off were the next prank of a wayward fate.

Although heartbroken, Grace tried to put up a calm front. "I did my best," he remarked, "that's all I can say."

Lieut. Esten B. Koger, manager of Grace's flight, collapsed, however, when the monoplane crashed. He took the failure of the flight more keenly, apparently, than Grace himself.

Although material has tentatively been ordered at the Pearl Harbor airport for repairs upon the plane, it was generally believed Grace and his party will sail for California tomorrow.

CRASH VICTIM

J. H. SHADRACH

J. H. Shadrach, shop foreman for The Ohio Fuel Gas Co., was killed Saturday when his auto collided head-on with another machine, three miles east of Jamestown on the Washington Pike. He was an active Mason.

XENIAN DIES AFTER AUTOMOBILE CRASH EAST OF JAMESTOWN

John H. Shadrach Fatal-
ly Hurt—Hold Funeral Monday

Funeral services for John H. Shadrach, 62, N. Detroit St., shop foreman, Ohio Fuel Gas Co., who died at McClellan Hospital, Saturday at 4 p. m., from injuries received when the gas company auto crashed on collision with the machine driven by D. E. Andrews, rear of 23 Ashley St., Dayton, on the Washington Pike, three miles east of Jamestown, an hour earlier, were held at the residence Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Shadrach's death was caused by general shock. His body was terribly mangled, the wounds being inflicted when gas pipe, loaded in the rear of his auto, crashed into the back of the car and into Mr. Shadrach's body. Harry Chambliss, W. Second St., pipeman for the gas company, riding with Shadrach, received only minor cuts and small injuries.

The crash occurred when Shadrach, driving toward Jamestown, passed one auto, coming in the opposite direction and then attempted to pass the car driven by Andrews. The heavy pipe was loaded in the truck body of the gas company car, extending through a trailer.

It is believed that the Shadrach tried to pass the Andrews car. The cars met with a terrific impact, both being demolished. Neither Andrews or his wife, who was riding with him were hurt.

Drs. A. D. Ritenour and R. L. Haines, Jamestown, were called to the scene of the accident and rushed Shadrach to the McClellan Hospital, here, where he lived an hour. He received lacerations over his entire body, his right chest was crushed, his left arm mangled and cuts were inflicted about the neck and head. He never regained consciousness after the accident. Dr. F. M. Chambliss, coroner, investigated and is conducting an inquiry.

Mr. Shadrach resided in Xenia twenty-one years, coming here from Jackson, O., as an employee of the gas company. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary M. Shadrach and four children; William J. Shadrach, Columbus; Charles Shadrach, Greenfield and Miss Gladys Shadrach, at home.

One brother, Frank Shadrach, Jackson, O., and three sisters, Mrs. Daniel Jenkins, Middletown; Mrs. W. H. Burns, Covington, Ky., and Mrs. James Kennison, Jackson, O., also survive.

The deceased was a member of the First M. E. Church, and the Masonic Lodge.

BURNED BY BLAST

CLEVELAND, July 5.—Joseph Hecht, 45, was in a critical condition today, following an explosion in the kitchen of the Lincoln Inn, at Mentor, near here yesterday. Hecht was burned about the head and body and four other men who were helping him, were seriously burned. Trouble with an artificial gas stove was assigned as the cause of the explosion. The inn was completely destroyed.

DELEGATES ARRIVE AS ANNUAL SESSION IS OPENED TUESDAY

Interesting Program Is
Arranged For Convention Here

Registration of members of the Ex-Pupils' Association, for the forty-seventh annual reunion at the O. S. and S. O. Home, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, began late Monday and early Tuesday morning.

Tuesday's program was given over to the "get-together" of former pupils at the institution. Those present had breakfast together at 7 o'clock and the Jeffries Orchestra, Xenia, gave a concert at 8 o'clock. Registration and the reception of ex-pupils began in earnest from 8 to 12 o'clock and dinner was served at 12. The afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock was devoted to visiting and renewing of old acquaintances, with a concert by the Jeffries orchestra at 2 o'clock. A vaudeville show by members of the organization, followed by a "Charleston" contest, will be presented at the same time.

A "Hard Times Dance" when members of the association will array themselves in the oldest clothes obtainable, will be held Tuesday night, with music by the Jeffries Orchestra.

A business meeting will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, following breakfast at 7 and a concert at 8. Dinner will be served at 12 o'clock each day, with music during that period.

Memorial services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the chapel, honoring members of the association who have passed on. A baseball game will be staged at 3:30, an orchestra concert opening the afternoon program at 2 o'clock. A banquet, with orchestra music will be served at 6 o'clock, and the evening will be turned over to a "balloon dance."

A business meeting will be held on the pavilion, when officers will be elected, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. A concert will be held at 8 a. m., that day also. Sports for the children will be arranged for Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The boys and girls will oppose each other in a baseball game at 2 o'clock. A concert by the orchestra will be given from 2:30 to 4, Thursday afternoon, and after supper, at 5:30, the grand ball, the closing feature of the reunion, will be held at 8 o'clock.

About 400 members of the association from several states are expected to attend the reunion.

YOUTHS DROWN AS PRISONERS LOOK ON

OSSINING, N. Y., July 5.—Dragging the bed of the Hudson river with grappling hooks, Ossining police continued their search today for the bodies of three unidentified New York youths who drowned a few yards out from the Sing Sing prison bulkhead yesterday in a tragic holiday accident.

Their canoe overturning in the choppy waters of the river, the three young men went to their deaths while more than a thousand convicts and prison guards looked on helplessly. Duty forbids the guards from freeing a dozen prisoners who begged, on their knees, tears streaming from their eyes, to be permitted to go to the rescue.

FOUR KILLED WHEN WOMAN LEADS FIGHT

MOSCOW, July 5.—Four persons were killed and five wounded in a running gun battle near Smolensk today between monarchist conspirators headed by a woman, M. V. Zacharchenko, and a police army detachment.

Three monarchists, including Madame Zacharchenko, and one army policeman were slain. Armed peasants assisted in the rounding up of the monarchist band. Five of the pursuers, including a soldier, were injured.

Madame Zacharchenko and two assistants came from Finland and attempted to dynamite the army police building in Moscow on June 3. On that occasion she fled to Smolensk.

A CAREER AT EIGHTEEN

Underwood and Underwood.

Hailed by the critics as one of the outstanding new novelists in England, Miss Molly Painter Downes, 18-year-old author, has scored a tremendous success in her home country with her first book, "The Shoreless Sea."

YOUNG COAST GUARD OFFICER BLUFFS RUM RUNNER ARREST

Ensign Captures Twenty Men And $500,000 Cargo
With Half Empty Pistol And Strong And Bold Bluff

NEW YORK, July 5.—Ensign Charles L. Duke is in line today for the highest honors that the coast service can confer as the result of his daring act in leaping aboard a moving rum runner in the upper bay, seizing her liquor cargo, valued at $500,000, and by sheer bluff and resourcefulness cowing and arresting her crew of twenty-two Nova Scotia fishermen.

The young ensign, a six-footer, had only two years' experience of coast guard work. He was patrolling the harbor in the tiny launch CG-2327, when he observed a suspicious-looking vessel creeping along the Bay Ridge shore. She was salt-caked and dirty, and kept right on past Quarantine, up the narrows toward the upper bay.

Ensign Duke steered his launch near enough to be able to read the name on the vessel's side, Economy.

Then he called to the captain to heave-to, but the demand was ignored. The ensign fired two shots as a warning, but the vessel kept on. By this time the little launch was being swept by waves, and the ensign's uniform was drenched. He suddenly grabbed the heavily laden freighter's rail and swung aboard, armed only with a flashlight and a revolver containing three bullets.

His only chance was to bluff. Turning to Chief Boatswains Mate Madsen, he exclaimed, "If I'm not out of that pilot house in two minutes you turn the machine gun on them."

The machine gun existed only in the ensign's imagination, but Madsen nodded. Ensign Duke grooped his way into the deck-house. He was stopped by a burly seaman, who wanted to know where he was going. A second later the seaman was sprawling senseless on the deck.

RELIABILITY TOUR PLANES IN DAYTON

DAYTON, O., July 5.—The thirteen planes of the Ford reliability tour left here early today for a short flight to Noreton Field, Columbus, after an overnight stop following their 200-mile journey from Kalamazoo, Michigan. Eddie Stinson, of Detroit, piloting a Waco plane, was still leading the field in the reliability competition with 4323.5 points, with H. C. Mummert, Detroit, second, 3543.2 points; and Robert Page, piloting a Hamilton ship, third, 3527.6 points.

The planes will proceed late this afternoon from Columbus to Cincinnati, continuing their swing around the country. Pilots were guests at a public dinner last night, and they will be similarly honored in Columbus, where an air circus, with exhibition and stunt flights as features, will be held in their honor.

INABILITY OF U. S. TO ACCEPT BRITISH DEMAND IS BLAMED

May Permit Cruiser
Question To Hold
Over To 1931

GENEVA, July 5.—A state of complete deadlock at the tri-partite naval arms limitation conference here was reached today when the naval experts' committee adjourned indefinitely its labors "to permit the various delegations to seek a means of adjusting the cruiser needs of the different powers."

The deadlock resulted directly from inability of the United States to agree to Great Britain's demand for seventy-eight cruisers totaling about 600,000 tons. It was understood here today that the United States delegation had received instructions from Washington that unless an agreement on cruiser strength could be reached, practically on the basis of a proposal put forward by an American delegate allowing 400,000 tons of cruiser strength each for Great Britain and the United States, that it would be better to allow the cruiser question to rest in abeyance until 1931.

The naval limitations treaties signed at the Washington conference, which have to do with capital ships, expire in 1931 unless renewed.

The American proposition represented a compromise between the United States' first proposal of 250,000 to 300,000 cruiser tonnage each for Great Britain and the United States, and the British demand for nearly 600,000 tons. This American compromise proposition was presented at the experts' committee meeting, and almost immediately the work of the committee was adjourned without a set date for another meeting.

This action left the arms conference without a committee meeting scheduled with the members of the various delegations conferring independently within their own ranks.

Following the adjournment, the experts' committee issued a communique saying the adjournment was taken with "a view to permitting the various delegations to seek a means of adjusting the cruiser needs of the different powers."

The communique also declared an agreement had been reached respecting submarines, but later it was authoritatively learned that the agreement was only to limit submarine torpedo tubes to twenty-two inches size, and that no agreement had been reached on the tonnage or number of submarines to be allowed the various powers.

TWO KILLED WHEN AIRPLANE FALLS

CINCINNATI, O., July 5.—Two men were dead and another suffering from serious injuries today, as the result of the crash of a commercial airplane on Laugherty Island, near Rising Sun, Ind., yesterday afternoon, Harry Danbury, 24, and Raymond Hodges, 30, both of Rising Sun, passengers, were killed, and Edward Roefling, Clevelander, pilot, was being treated at Jewish Hospital here today. The plane was circling above a powerboat which had been participating in the annual Ohio River regatta, when the pilot turned too sharply, and the crash followed.

CROSSING TRAGEDY CLAIMS MAN, WIFE

WELLINGTON, O., July 5.—Kenneth Hines, 29, and his wife, Gladys, 28, were dead today following a crossing crash near midnight Monday, when their auto was struck by a fast Big Four train at the Main Street crossing here.

A three-year-old daughter of the couple, carried 1,500 feet on the pilot of the engine, after the crash, was picked up unconscious but will recover, according to attending physicians.

Hines was a Wellington garage-man.

DETROIT BALLOON SEEN OVER MARION

MARION, O., July 5.—One of the five balloons which left Detroit late yesterday in the annual race, was sighted over Marion early today, and persons with field glasses established its identity as Detroit No. 3, piloted by A. G. Schlosser and E. J. Hill. The big white bag was drifting in the direction of Columbus when last seen, shortly after 8 o'clock.

ACCIDENTS MAR DAY

CLEVELAND, July 5.—Two accidents marred Cleveland's Fourth of July celebration. Charles Csis, 15, had a finger blown off his right hand, and Margie Fulton suffered burns to his right eye, when a torpedo exploded.

DOUBLES WIN GIVES AMERICA NEW TITLE AT WIMBLEDON MEET

Wills And Ryan Take Match From British Players

WIMBLEDON, England, July 5.—America fell heir to its third Wimbledon title today when the great California pair of Helen Wills, the singles champion, and Elizabeth Ryan rushed through Mrs. Peacock and Miss E. L. Heine to a straight set victory in the final round. The scores were 6-3, 6-2.

The victory of the Wills-Ryan team in the women's doubles climaxed a championship in which Americans have dominated everything except the men's singles in which their super-star, Bill Tilden, failed to make the grade to the final round. The inimitable Helen took over two of the championships in singles and doubles while yesterday Tilden retrieved much of his reputation by playing dazzling tennis in teaming with Francis T. Hunter to win the men's doubles.

Miss Ryan, who today collaborated in winning her ninth British doubles championship, faced the possibility of holding two titles before the close of the meeting. In company with Hunter, she will play a semi-final match in the mixed doubles today.

In brief, America had better than an even chance of achieving the pyrrhorea ratio four out of five. At least in English championships.

QUIET FOURTH IS RECORD IN CAPITAL

COLUMBUS, O., July 5.—Only one fatality marked the quietest July Fourth in years in Columbus. Ephraim K. Holcomb, a carpenter, was killed and three young men with him were injured when Holcomb's automobile turned over a ditch near here and caught fire. No serious injuries from fireworks were reported. A minimum temperature of 52 broke all records in the history of the weather bureau for the national holiday.

AUTO CRASH FATAL

WOOSTER, O., July 5.—Mrs. Harry McCurdy, 55, Cleveland, is dead, and her husband is in a hospital here today, as the result of an auto crash, Monday on the C. C. Highway, north of here.

AUTO BANDIT KILLED; PETTING PARTY PROVED TO BE SHERIFFS

FINDLAY, O., July 5.—Austin Williamson, 24, oil pumper and alleged auto bandit, is dead here today, the victim of a deputy sheriff who was quicker on the draw, according to the coroner's report following an inquest held Monday. Williamson, according to county records, and alleged confession by his wife and companions, was fatally shot Saturday night when he attempted to rob Deputy Sheriff H. B. Groves and O. E. Wilford, who with their wives, parked on

CHILD IS BURNED

TOLEDO, O., July 5.—Martha Davies, 6, is in a hospital here today, suffering burns sustained when firecrackers ignited her dress.

INFANT DROWNS

TOLEDO, O., July 5.—Earl McFarland, 17 months, drowned in the Ottawa River, near here, Monday when he crawled out upon a dock, it was reported here today.

WILE SAYS:

What Of Wood?
Seeing Geneva
Another Byrd
Numbering Roads

By FREDERIC WILLIAM WILE

Exclusive Dispatch, Copyright 1927

WASHINGTON, July 5.—General Leonard Wood's friends are wondering whether the University of Pennsylvania is going to re-tender him its presidency. When he went to the Philippines, the post was offered him largely in the belief that if he took it, Wood's name would be something to conjure with in connection with the university's drive for a $40,000,000 endowment fund. The plan was to split the executive leadership of the university in two parts. General Wood, as president, was to have charge of business administration, and Dr. Josiah H. Penniman, then provost, was to remain as such, at the head of academic activities. The presidency was held open for Wood a year, as it was supposed at the time that he wouldn't stay at Manila longer than that. But when the year was up, the general asked the university trustees to release him from any obligation to them. This was done, the two positions of president and provost were combined, and Dr. Penniman has held them ever since. The endowment drive meantime has met with fair success, and in Philadelphia there appears to be no further discussion of associating General Wood with the university.

For a country that avoids official intercourse with the League of Nations and all its works, these little old United States of ours are doing pretty well in the direction of sending representatives to Geneva ever and anon. So far this year we've had spokesmen on the Quay Woodrow Wilson at taxation, economic, naval and counterfeiting conferences. Now the superintendent of the nurse corps of the United States Army, Major Julia C.

WRITING LETTERS

The friendly art of writing letters is falling into disuse. Most letters nowadays are not written. They are promised, anticipated, thought about, and talked about. "I really meant to write. One thing and another prevented it."

Analyze "one thing and another." We find half the things were trivial and time-wasting.

Letters of the right sort have two fine and fundamental effects. First, they relieve the mind and clarify the thinking of the writer.

Second, they bring a new and important sense of right human relationships to the recipient.

Intimate, personal letters usually show a man at his best. His hardness and his intolerance fall away. We discover what kind of man he really is.

Who can really know Theodore Roosevelt without reading his letters to his children?

Who can understand the intellectual inwardness of Woodrow Wilson without reading his letters to Woodrow Wilson?

Robert Browning is known less by his poetry than by his letters to Elizabeth Barrett.

But these are examples known to fame and set up for the experiment of posterity.

Letter writing is just as much the friendly craft for common folk as for the great. The trouble is we do not practice it.

Today's letters—the ones we have to write—we dictate wearily. They begin, "I am in receipt of yours of the fifteenth and beg to state that the shipment is all wrong."

There is no improvement in human relationships in that sort of thing.

Friendliness is not an accident. It is not a happenstance.

Friendliness is an art to be studied and cultivated. It is like a garden—it to be made to produce beauty.

Why not a movement to revive the friendly art of letter writing?

ABOVE FRIVOLITIES

"Hailed as a representative of modern youth, Colonel Lindbergh is actually a living challenge and rebuke to our bumptious and over-praised younger generation," declares a writer in "Patches Weekly." "Lindbergh," continues the editorial, "has captivated a world which was beginning to find the pretentiousness of modern youth rather a bore. The young Colonel's total abstinence extends far beyond liquor. He does not smoke; he does not swear; he does not gamble; he does not dance; he does not seek diversion in anything more frivolous than flying. In a word this idol of a delirious populace is a model of all the copy-book virtues, a pattern of those unfashionable attributes which our cynical young people disdain as Victorianism."

The Way of the World

UNTIL THE FACTS ARE IN

Chicago teachers, given some new rules as objectives in teaching, are "to develop in the pupil the habit of suspending judgment until evidence is collected."

That's a high-class rule for grown-ups as well as boys and girls. Wait until the evidence is in. Rumors have nothing to do with evidence. Hopes, opinions, and wishes have nothing to do with evidence. Evidence has to do with facts. It would be a sweeter world if we had the forbearance to hold back an opinion until the evidence is in.

WHY BE OF LITTLE FAITH?

A young man flies across the ocean and rings up his mother on the telephone. And yet we are so often finding ourselves short on faith when we are asked to believe in some of life's greater realities. What is a miracle? Where does it begin and where does it leave off? Even yet we "see through a glass darkly."

WHAT IS THERE LEFT?

A member of the National Woman's party, en route to a convention, is described by a newspaper as being interested in obtaining "equal rights for women." We thought they had all been obtained long ago. What's lacking? The trouble is the minds of some women who are concerned with equal rights is that they want all of the exemptions and few of the duties.

BELIEVE IN PENNIES

A penny doesn't seem like a lot of money when you put it in a weighing machine. But the president of a weighing machine company recently took out his pennies and bought one of the finest yachts afloat. There never was a million dollars that couldn't somehow be translated into pennies.

SONGS of a HOUSEWIFE

OFFS by Marjorie K. Rawlings

SPILT MILK

SPILT milk is wasted, every bit—It's gone, and that's the end of it. No tears, no sighs, for what might-be is my spilt-milk-philosophy.

When boys break windows with a ball, The panes are broken—that is all. Accidents happen now and then, I've noticed, to some grown-up men.

And if I spoil a cake or pie I give no loud, heart-broken cry. Scorched and ruined apple-sauce I charge to profit and to loss.

But I am mourning to this day The time, when at a picnic gay, Through my own stupid, careless fault, I got the ice cream full of salt!

Alas! Poor Yorick!

KELLYGRAMS by FRED C KELLY

WAITERS AS PHILOSOPHERS

I asked a hotel waiter yesterday if he doesn't find it difficult at times to keep his temper. A pompous guest had just been snapping his fingers at the waiter and calling his attention to various personal shortcomings.

"No," he told me, "that's all part of the job. We waiters are taught to keep our tempers. In fact, we are paid for it."

Then he went on to tell me how in certain well-managed hotels, part of the regular course of instruction for waiters includes a lecture on the necessity of adopting a philosophical attitude of mind toward a customer with an ugly disposition.

The waiter's feeling, after his course of training, is supposed to be something like this: "When a customer gets mad and talks nasty, or when for any reason he is discourteous, it isn't because he has a personal grudge against me, but because he has an unfortunate disposition that is sure to show itself from time to time. I'm paid to keep my temper and not talk back. Many men are so downright at the office that they have to show their teeth once in a while and they pick on the waiter, thinking he is an inferior. But when I keep my temper, I'm really superior to the man who can't keep his, and who forgets to behave as a gentleman towards great or humble."

And why isn't that a shrewd line of philosophy for anybody, whether he happens to be waiter or banker?

I'm always hearing somebody tell about plans for getting back at this fellow or that. Anybody can get even if he's willing to pay the price in having himself all piled up until he's unfit for work. But the cleverest man is he who, like a waiter, knows that tolerating a disagreeable temper or cocky talk is just part of the routine of his job.

If a man says something intended to make you mad, and you don't get mad, he may think the joke is on you. But it's really on him.

NO HAIRCUT FOR VELMA

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Faced with the necessity for having her hair cropped close and remaining under the comparatively mild discipline at White's penitentiary, or retaining her permanent wave beneath the sterner restrictions of the Good Shepherd school at Indianapolis, Velma Van Kirk, 15-year-old girl, chose to take her chance with the Indianapolis institution rather than sacrifice her hair.

Velma is classed as a dependent girl, but not a delinquent, and the Good Shepherd home cares for both types. So they took Velma to Indianapolis, but her curly locks remained on her head.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.

THE ATONIC ABDOMINAL WALL

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Peters cannot advise you individually. That is the province of your personal physician. She will answer questions in the column if they are of general interest, as soon as possible. When writing her for any material that is offered in the column, enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. Don't write "City." (For the reducing pamphlet you must also include a two-cent stamp extra.) Don't write over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Address your letters to her in care of this paper. Unless these rules are complied with, the materials cannot be sent.

(Atonic—Lack of Tone)

There is one set of muscles that we all feel a tender interest in, and that is our heart set. Do you know that if all the other muscles of your body are flabby and lack tone, your heart muscles do also? I'm afraid I haven't written enough on the importance of exercise, and I intend to bring it up often in the future.

There are too many who feel that exercise is beneficial solely to the muscles. By realizing that the heart muscles are included, and that there are muscle tissues in the blood vessels and the intestinal walls; that vigorous exercise limbers up the joints, speeds up the circulation, bringing more fresh blood with its nutriment and oxygen, and speeding on the waste products, so activating every organ in the body, you will realize more fully what exercise means.

There is another very important fact: a well-exercised muscle has a great prejudice against any excess fat around and over it.

There is one set of exercises which is more important than any other. This is the set which brings into play the trunk muscles. Because they have so much to do with holding the internal organs in place, many disorders can arise when they are relaxed. There is hardly any work, no matter how strenuous, that exercises the trunk muscles sufficiently, so special exercises for them should be practiced.

It is best, before beginning any strenuous physical exercises, to have a checkup by your physician. (If you are very much overweight, it is well to reduce somewhat by your diet first.)

If you will do these exercises I give you, they will not only strengthen your abdominal muscles and prevent the accumulation of fat in that region and in the hips and thighs, but they will also keep your spine flexible and fully adjusted. While the exercises may not cure hernias of long standing (only an operation may do that), they are advised, for they may reduce the hernia opening. They certainly might prevent hernias from forming.

You should begin all these exercises with a small number, say not more than three, and gradually increase them to ten or so. Then keep them up for the rest of your life! Rest a few moments as soon as you are tired. This is highly important. You probably will be lame from them for a while anyway but if you don't carry out my directions for increasing them gradually, and resting, you may be so lame that you will be disabled for a while. It may be advisable to begin with the exercises on your couch or bed until you are limbered up somewhat.

Exercise 1—Put some newspapers or a sheet on the floor, and lie flat on your back, hands outstretched above the head. Rise to a sitting position, and then forward and touch fingers to toes. Later do the exercise with the hands at your sides.

Exercise 2—Raise your right leg (keep it straight) as far as you can, then your left leg, then both together.

Exercise 3—Raise legs and do the bicycle movements.

Exercise 4—Raise legs and do the scissors movements.

Exercise 5—Drawing your knees up, clasp your hands around them and rock back and forth as far as you can; sideways, also.

Exercise 6—Roll over on your abdomen, first on the right side, then on the left.

Exercise 7—Sitting (on the floor) with legs widely separated, raise arms, clasp hands, lean back slightly and swing over, touching the toes, first of one foot and then the other.

Exercise 8—Lying first on one side and then the other, lift the legs slightly and do the scissors movements.

Exercise 9—Lying on the abdomen, clasp hands behind the back and raise the head and chest as far as you can.

Remember my precautions!

Tomorrow—A Whole Meal.

SIGNIFICANT SAYINGS OF THE DAY

"One per cent of the population of the United States receives twenty per cent of the income, ten per cent receives forty per cent, and twenty-five per cent receives three and one-half per cent of the income. A careful estimate recently made indicates that wealth is more unequally distributed than income. A continual tendency toward concentration is evident in railroads, industry and finance. The corporate form makes possible an irresponsible ownership and accentuates operation for profit only."—Dr. Willard Thorp, professor of economics at Amherst College.

"Time is really the only capital that any human being has, and the one thing that he can't afford to lose."—Thomas Edison, inventor.

Celebration of the Fourth of July in Xenia was quiet and was marked by no serious accidents.

Residents of Orient Hill met in their annual reunion on the Spahr lot.

Because an aeronaut could not be obtained and determined the people should see the widely advertised balloon flight July 4, Editor H. H. McGill, of the Osborn Local, made a successful balloon ascension in front of his office in the village.

Lawrence John, who recently accepted a position as clerk on the Frisco division of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, left his headquarters at Salem, Ill.

How to Achieve Beauty

MME. HELENA RUBENSTEIN

THE BENEFITS OF FRESH FRUITS

It hardly seems necessary for me to emphasize the health and beauty value of fresh fruits, because this subject has been discussed so much that it would seem that anyone who gives a serious thought to self care could not be oblivious to the benefits to be derived from the frequent eating of them.

Yet one has only to sit in the dining room of a smart hotel or restaurant to realize that there are still many people who yield to the habit of a cup of coffee in the morning instead of fresh fruit juice or a cooked cereal instead of a raw apple. Or for luncheon, one sees people eagerly consuming some French chef's favorite concoction instead of a simple fruit salad.

Many a woman who yearns for health and beauty would think she were badly abused if she were served with a raw carrot or two or a glass of buttermilk—some dates or an apple with a glass of sweet milk. Whereas these very foods would help give her the beauty she yearns for.

For instance, I would like to stop right here and write a whole article on the health giving value of apples and despite the fact that it is hackneyed, I cannot refrain from quoting again the old slogan—"an apple a day, keeps the doctor away."

I sometimes think if apples were more plentiful, they would be more appreciated. I myself have my maid bring me several times a day, a dish of cored and quartered apples.

If you heed these fundamental rules you will be laying the right sort of a foundation for your beauty specialist and preparations to work on.

She Flies

For Mrs. Lorenza Oelze, it is claimed that she is the only woman in the world who operates her own commercial flying field. When her husband, Carl Oelze, died recently, she carried on his business. Herself an enthusiastic aviatrix she owns several planes and herself flies frequently.

Little Old New York

NEW YORK, July 5.—Thumbnails of some New York-ers:

The Gold-Digger.—Angela, the daughter of a respectable grocer in a small town in Mississippi, who is also a deacon in the Baptist church. Her parents have always been industrious and thrifty and so Angela has never known the pinch of acute poverty. She was given a good common school and high school education and her parents figured to send her to one of the numerous finishing schools in the south or to college.

But Angela had ideas of her own. She was an independent girl with a vexatious temperament, who chafed people into doing anything she wanted them to do, either by routing and pretending to be deeply hurt or by violent outbursts of weeping and angry tantrums. Angela was stage-struck. She had wanted to join a stock company in the days when girls with stage ambitions considered stock company tramping instead of acting in the movies, and when their ultimate destination was Broadway in stead of Hollywood. Angela thought she would become another Olga Netherole or Julia Marlowe; she had no notion of becoming a Mary Pickford or Constance Talmadge.

Angela had no looks sufficiently inflammatory to be a serious menace to the peace of mind of any man. In fact, she was, except for her eyes and her coloring, decidedly plain. Her body was rather gross above the waist and weakened below. Her bosom was maternally and her legs were skinny. But she had (and has) an ugly mouth that at (and is) at once voluptuous and pouty in an innocent looking fashion. In fact, her sole beauty asset has been this mouth, which makes her look as though she had been released untainted and inexperienced into the world and that at the same time she is devilishly fast and eager to make up for lost time.

When I speak of this beauty asset of her mouth, of course, I mean in the matter of attracting a certain kind of man, a gross, predatory, thick-skinned sort of fellow who has been accustomed to meretricious women. Angela consulted the managers of stock companies every time they played in the local theater, begging for an opportunity to go on the road with their shows. She met not only with no success, but, in many instances, with abrupt and brutal comments: "Say, whaddya think I could do in my company with a goll wid a muk like yours?" "You ain't cut out for no chorus girl, sister, not wid dem pipe-stem legs you got," or "Say, I gotta 'nough dames wid no experience and no brains on my salary list' now. Take my advice, sister, and marry one of dese hicks and get yourself a real meek ticket for life and not be counting on getting busted in Duluth. If you tink you jost gotta ack, ack in dese Sunday school plays. Dey gotem here, ain't dey?"

But one time Angela interviewed a trouper manager who was of the type whose self-interest would be attracted by that curious mouth of hers to such an extent that he would think it worth the cost to him to add her to his salary list, even if she could not act. And he did.

Angela did not last very long with the stock company. Angela was, as they say, a good girl. But even while trouping she had learned many things which she later used to her advantage. She had learned, for instance, that with ordinary luck, while traveling on trains she would not have to pay for her meals on the diner. All she had to do was to scrape up acquaintance with a middle-aged elderly man who was traveling alone and make him think that he was the one who had scraped up the acquaintance. Young men would not do, they never had the paternal attitude and they did not care to take hints that she had only a very little money in her purse; it always shooed them off. But with middle-aged and elderly men it always worked. They not only bought her meals, but offered to advance her small "loans."

TEA MUFFINS

One cup dry bread crumbs, one cup milk, half cup molasses, one egg, one and a half cups whole wheat flour, one-half teaspoon salt, half teaspoon soda, three teaspoons baking powder, half teaspoon cinnamon, half teaspoon nutmeg, one-fourth teaspoon cloves, two tablespoons melted fat.

Soften the bread crumbs in the milk and add egg, slightly beaten, melted fat and molasses. Mix dry ingredients and add at one time to other mixture. Bake about twenty-five minutes in medium oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit).

TEA BREAD

Two cups whole wheat flour, half teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup sugar, three teaspoons baking powder, half cup peanut butter, one cup milk, three-fourths cup chopped dates or raisins.

Mix the dry ingredients, rub in peanut butter, add fruit and stir in milk. Pour into small bread pan and bake in moderate oven (300 degrees Fahrenheit) about an hour.

Reserves Run Winning Streak To Five Games Here

VICTORIES ON BOTH SUNDAY AND MONDAY BRING HUGE SCORES

Cyphers And Payton Twirl Locals To Two More Wins

Reserves rolled their latest winning streak to five in a row and registered their eleventh and twelfth victories of the season by winning both week-end contests at Washington Park, slaughtering the Springfield Eds. 10 to 3 Sunday, and overwhelming the Dayton Andrews Pumps, an amateur "kid" team, 14 to 4 in the Fourth of July game.

Both games were of a farcical nature to say the least for the caliber of the opposition was undoubtedly the poorest of the season.

The games only served to fatten batting averages of members of the Reserve nine. Johnson, Reserve, gardener, came out of his batting slump with a vengeance, thumping out three hits Sunday and four more Saturday Monday.

The Sunday contest was a massacre in every sense of the word. Reserves scoring more runs in every inning but the fifth and collecting thirteen hits. The team also stole six bases.

Monday's game was almost as bad. Only in the third and sixth frames did the Reserves fail to score. Locals connected for eighteen hits and ran the bases at will, stealing eight sacks.

The opposition in the Fourth of July contest was furnished by an aggregation of school boys, none of whom were more than eighteen years of age.

QUOIT CLUB PLAYS DAYTON EASTWOOD

Xenia Quoit Club has a wonderful opportunity to take third place in the Miami Valley Quoit League in the inter-city match with the Dayton Eastwood Club on the local courts Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Eastwood sustained a 15 to 3 drubbing last week, administered by the Dayton N. C. R. team while Xenia was defeating the Dayton Shrine 10 to 8.

Only about six games separate Xenia and Eastwood, and the local team can better its position in the league standing by a decisive win Tuesday.

Xenia has not been defeated in its past five matches, winning three and breaking even in the other two.

All members of the local team are asked to be present for Tuesday night's match.

WAYNESVILLE JINX WORKS AND BOWERSVILLE IS DEFEATED

The old "jinx" still hangs to the Bowersville Bayliffs when they visit Waynesville. Sunday the Miami Valley bunch was able to walk away with another victory 7 to 5 in a Triangle League game. Bowersville was leading in the first half of the fifth by one run, but this was quickly wiped out by two costly errors followed by three hits. This was the finish for the Bay-liffs, when their ninth inning rally fell short two runs.

D. Murrell, last man at bat in the ninth, was robbed of a two-base hit when Pummell, playing third for Waynesville, hooked on to his hard hit liner for the third out, at which time there were two men on base.

Bowersville, which hit 14 to 10, N. Murrell clouting four hits. E. Haughey and D. Murrell each got three out of five. Waynesville played errorless ball behind Adams which got him out of several holes. Bowersville held the enemy scoreless except in the first and fifth.

Bowersville will play Wilmington at Wilmington Sunday, July 10, 3 p. m. Box score:

Instant Death to Roaches, Ants and Bed-Bugs

Yes, instant death to bed-bugs, roaches or ants. The moment P.D.Q. the new chemical discovery touches these insects they die. Can do no damage to your springs, or furniture, or wall or stain clothing. P.D.Q. is used and recommended by leading hotels, hospitals and railroads as the quickest and safest way of getting rid of these insects. Instantly it smothers and kills the living creatures; coats their eggs, and stops them from hatching and multiplying. A 5c package of this golden chemical will make a quart of mixture—so ready to use. Free patent spot enables you to reach hard-to-get-at places with ease. Get P.D.Q. at your druggist's today. Your money back if the bugs are not gone tomorrow.

PIMPLES ITCHED CONSTANTLY
Caused Loss of Sleep. Cuticura Healed.

"My trouble started with small, red pimples on my face and hands. They were very annoying as they itched and burned constantly, causing loss of sleep and continuous scratching. I could not put my hands in water or do my regular work. The trouble lasted four months.

"Finally I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After using it I got relief so purchased more, and in three months I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Vivian Cafferty, Oak Mills, Kans., June 14, 1926.

TOURNAMENTS MARK GOLF CLUB HOLIDAY

Perfect weather attracted many members to the Xenia Country Club course Fourth of July, where a handicap golf tournament was staged in the morning and a mixed tournament in the afternoon.

Jack Barlow, Xenia's foremost golfer, won the morning tournament, and Barlow, paired with Miss Betty Kingsbury, took first prize in the mixed tournament in the afternoon.

In this event, W. Crawford Craig and Mrs. George I. Graham won second place, and George R. Kelly and Mrs. Charles A. Weaver third place.

Luncheon was served in the club house at noon by women members of the club.

The fireworks display scheduled for the evening, was not held.

THE ALIBI THAT FAILED

CHICAGO.—When Harvey Johnson told the judge he wasn't drunk, honest, but that he got that way falling to the floor while hanging a picture, the judge laughed up his sleeve and wasn't at all fooled. He sentenced Johnson to have his picture taken while his head was shaved and to hang it on a wall at home so that he could take a look at the picture whenever he felt like taking a drink.

Underwood and Underwood

Ed Kehoe, a truck driver of Fairbanks, Alaska, won this year's Nenana ice pool, based on guesses as to the time the ice will move out of Alaska's chief harbor. Kehoe won $40,000 for estimating the exact hour, day and minute, of the breaking up of the ice barrier, the first time so accurate a prophecy had been made.

Inherit Fortune

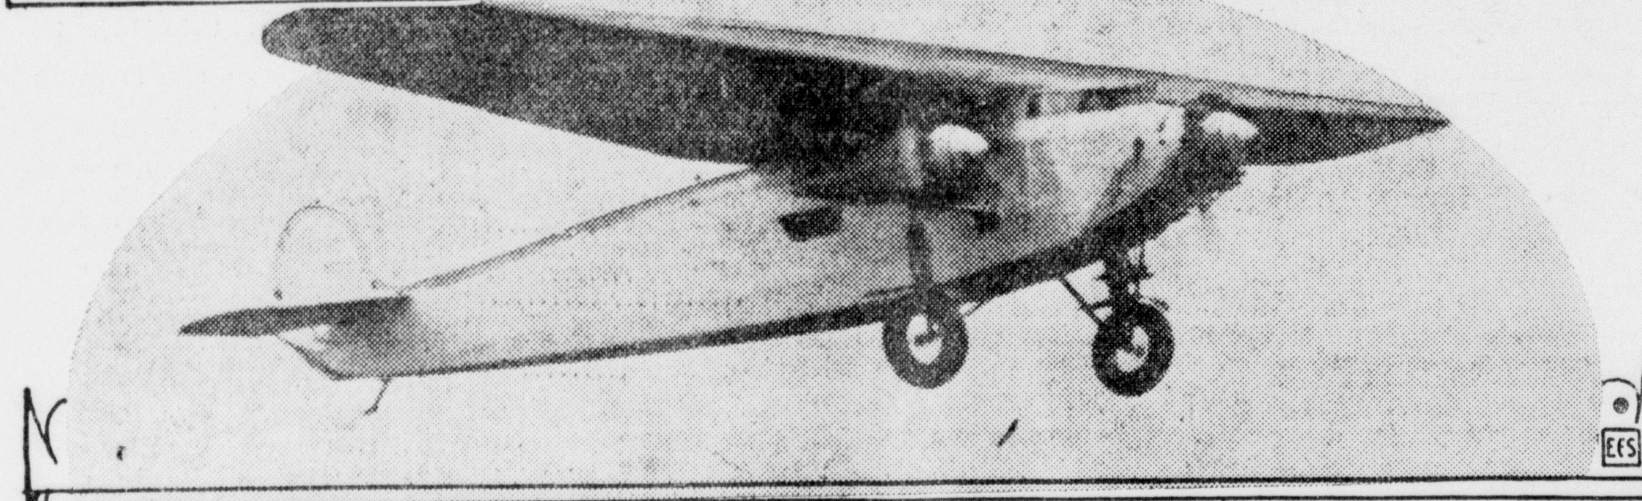

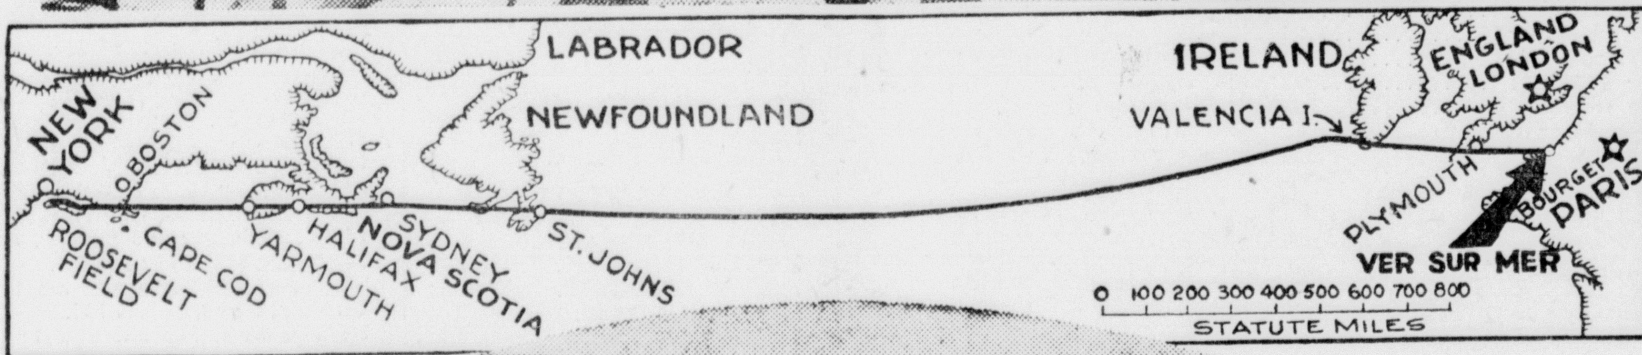

Meet Lord and Lady Cowdray. They inherit one of the largest fortunes in Great Britain since Lord Cowdray's father was England's oil king, the John D. Rockefeller of the British empire.

J. P. Morgan

It isn't often that J. P. Morgan permits himself to be photographed, but when he marched in the alumni parade on the Harvard campus at the recent commencement, an enterprising picture man managed to get this lifelike snapshot of the famous financier.

BYRD'S GALLANT VENTURE ENDS WITHIN SIGHT OF PARIS

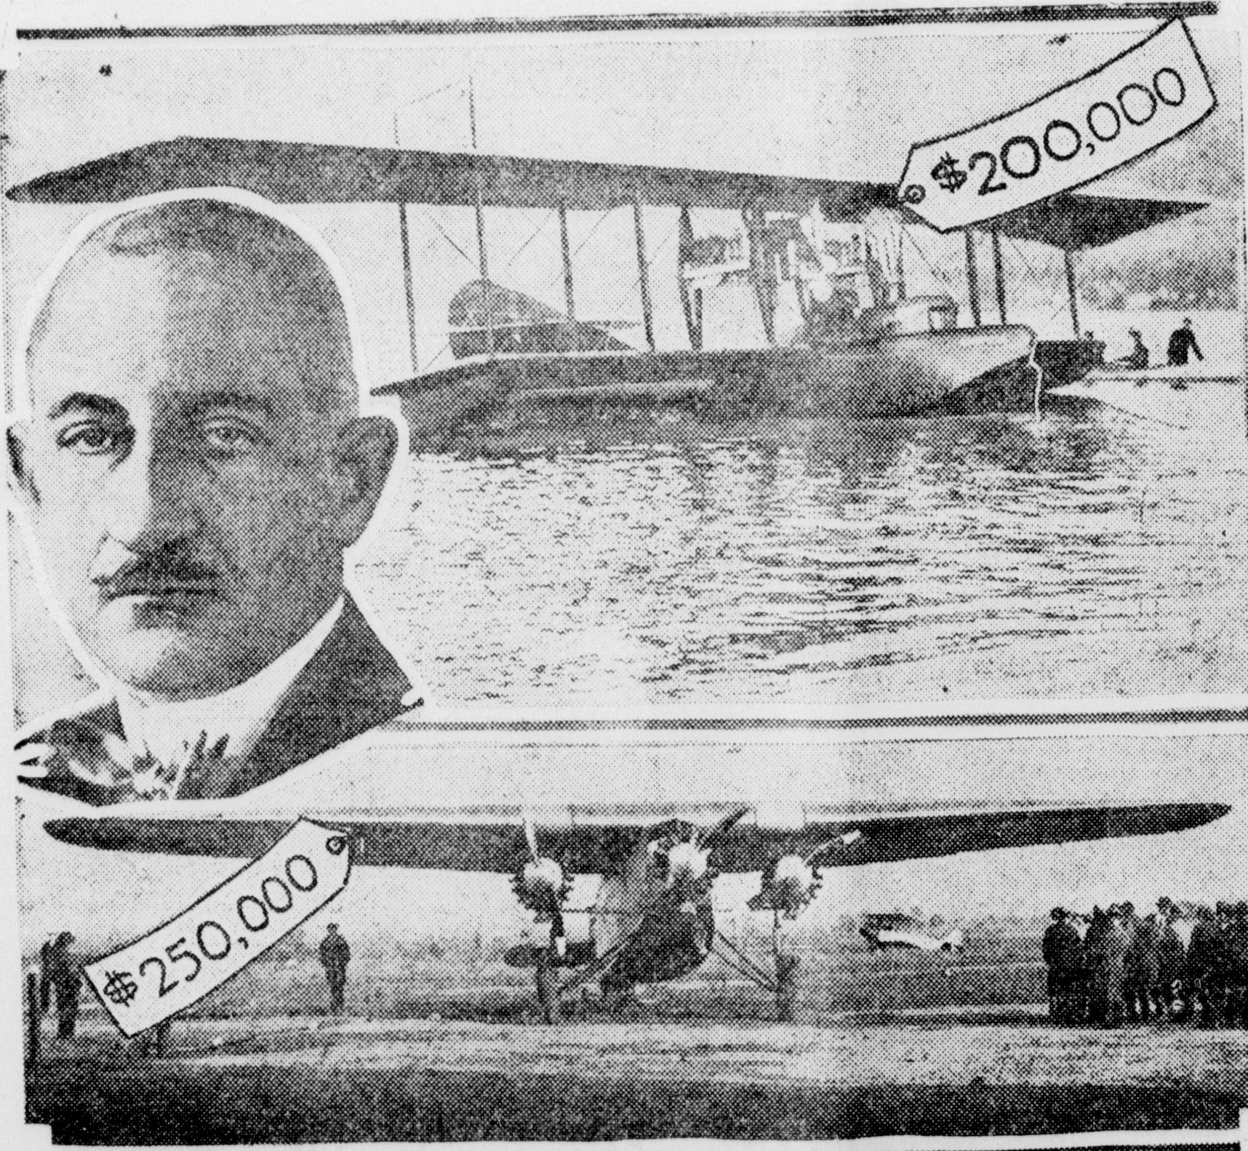

Battling head winds, mist, and heavy rain squalls, the tri-motored Fokker monoplane America, with its crew of four, was forced down on the French coast at Ver Sur Mer, near Havre, about 135 miles west of Paris. The crew was saved, but the airship was smashed in making the forced landing. In the picture are the America, first airplane to cross the Atlantic with more than two passengers, and her crew, from left to right, Bert Acosta, Commander Byrd, Lieut. George Noville and Berndt Balchen. The map shows Byrd's course, and the spot where the forced landing was made.

Brothers, Sisters in Triple Golden Wedding

Two brothers and their sister were married on the same day in 1877, and now they are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary jointly. Left to right—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Manney, and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Manney, of Cherryville, N. C.; and Mr. and Mrs. Mel Rudisille, Cherryville, N. C.

HALF MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF AVIATION

Rodman Wanamaker, New York merchant prince, has spent $450,000 on the two Americas, the seaplane built in 1914, and Commander Byrd's ship of today. Though other ships beat his to Europe, he's satisfied the money has advanced aviation.

FIRST SERVICE IN NEW RHEIMS

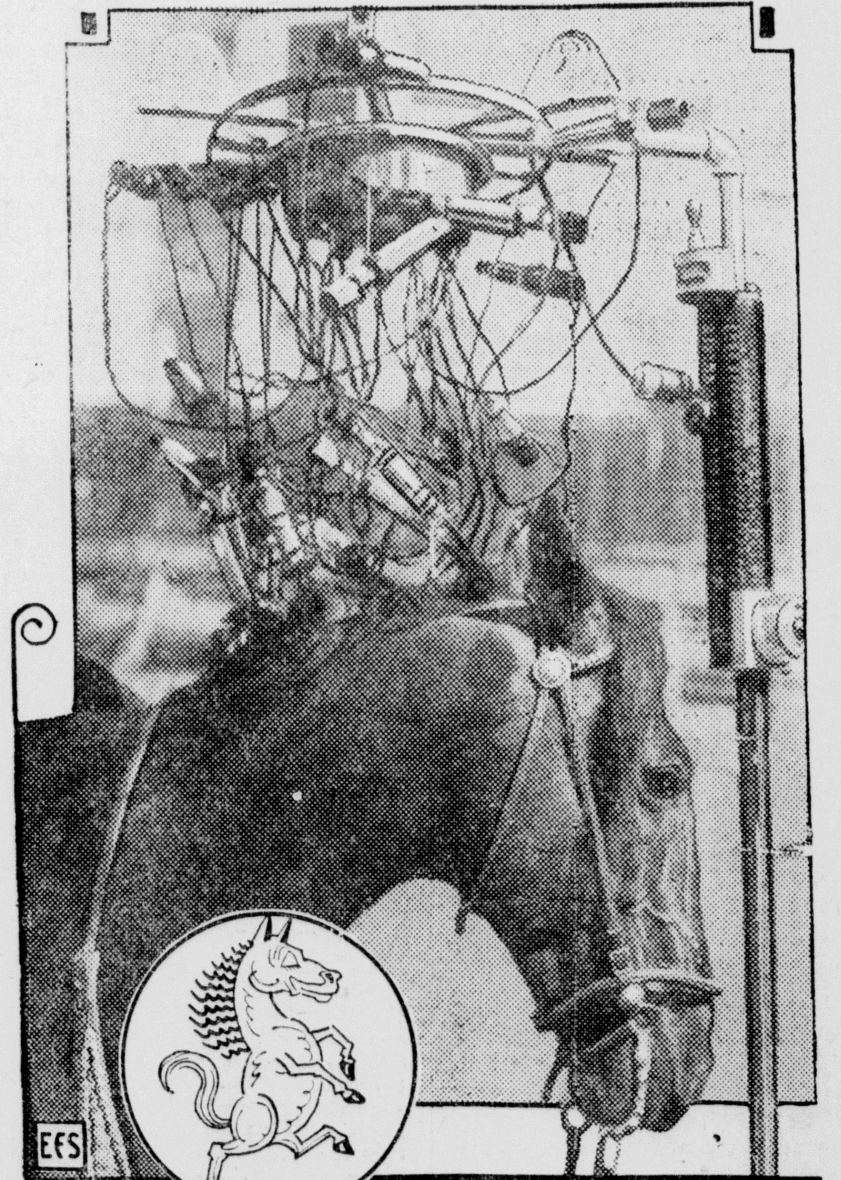

After nine years of labor, the beautiful cathedral at Rheims has been restored to its pre-war beauty and the first service celebrated within its rebuilt walls. The picture shows the crowd which attended the service, and inset, a portrait of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., whose latest gift is $1,600,000 to complete the work on the cathedral and on repairing Fontainebleau and Versailles palaces.

MANES PERMANENTLY WAVED

No ordinary curl was good enough for "Mustang," star equine actor of the movies, so his owner, Miss Elva Simmons, found a Los Angeles beauty parlor which agreed to put a permanent wave in Mustang's mane. Just one of those things they do in the movies.

It Didn't Work

When Joseph Ferri told the San Diego police he was Joseph Pivoli, the man who killed Bill Brennan and later escaped from Sing Sing, they believed him—for a few minutes. Investigation proved that Ferri was not Pivoli, that he had not escaped from Sing Sing and that what he was really after was a free ride to New York. Now he's in jail charged with vagrancy.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT
Estate of Rose M. Tate, deceased. S. C. Wright, Probate Judge of said County (July 5-12-19).

June, which came in like autumn, went out like a hot day in the desert, according to the monthly report of W. W. Neffert, Dayton observer.

Maximum temperature June 1 was 67 degrees, and the minimum was 51 for an average of 59 degrees. The maximum June 30 was 95 degrees, with a 73 minimum and an average of 84 for the day.

June 30 was therefore the hottest day of the month and helped raise the average temperature for the month to 66.5 degrees. The coldest day was June 8, when the mercury dropped to 47 while the greatest daily range was 35 degrees June 28. The average temperature for the month, in spite of the last two hot days, was the lowest since 1915, when the average was also 66 degrees and the lowest before that since 1903. In other words June, 1927, was one of the three coldest months in this century.

Total precipitation for the month was 2.51 inches, a deficiency of 1.45 inches under the normal of 3.96, and this in spite of the frequent rains in the early part of the month. There were seven clear days, nineteen partly cloudy, four cloudy, none of which 91 or more inches of precipitation was recorded. There were 306.7 hours of actual sunshine for a percentage of 68. Solar halos occurred June 3, 6, and 11, all occurred on June 4 and there were thunderstorms June 2, 4, 10, 21 and 25.

HOME TRUSTEES ACT TO HIRE ARCHITECT FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Construction of two new cottages at the O. S. and S. O. Home and improvement of twenty others, was given impetus at the meeting of the board of trustees Saturday night when the board of control and the director of highways were authorized to retain an architect to begin preliminary work.

The architect will be under supervision of the state architect's office and Director of Highways G. F. Schlesinger, who is in charge of public buildings. Tentative plans for the remodeling of the twenty older cottages will be submitted as soon as possible in order to get the work under way before August 9, when the appropriation fund becomes available.

As soon as plans are approved by the trustees and the state architect's office, bids will be advertised for and the work gotten under way. No other business was transacted at the meeting.

XENIA CELEBRATES HOLIDAY QUIETLY

Xenia elected to celebrate the one hundred and fifty-first anniversary of American independence in a quiet manner Monday and the only Fourth of July reminders were the occasional "bangs" of firecrackers and the usual display of flags.

The customary shutdown of official and unofficial business included the closing of the post office, Court House, City Hall, factories and places of business.

It was a "sane Fourth" for the city in every sense of the word for no serious accidents were reported, including no auto accidents and no injuries from exploding firecrackers. Police reported no arrests. There was only one small fire.

YOU DON'T BUY BLIND WHEN YOU BUY AT HOME

You Can See What You Are Buying In Your Hometown Store.

Pictures are pretty, but the wear is in the goods. The proof of the pudding is in the eating; and sometimes it's in the dyspepsia, too.

When you buy from a long distance mail order catalogue you are not buying the actual goods. You are buying a picture of something you've never seen, made by an artist you've never heard of, for a merchant who doesn't know you from the King of Siam.

But when you walk into your hometown store, you see what you purchase, you can discuss its value with the storekeeper or the clerk who serves you, and if you don't want it, you can refuse it—on the spot.

If the transaction is a matter of exchange, you can complete it in a few minutes time.

And the money you pay stays in your community.

Buy at home. It's good business.

MERRILY THEY ROLL ALONG KANSAS CITY. Kase—Anna Catherine Setzinger graduated from High School at Manhattan, Kas. recently, and her mother, Mrs. Henry Setzinger, was right there to see Anna get her diploma. She arrived, normally by train, from her home at Havana, Ill., 400 miles away. But the idea of returning home by train was much too commonplace for Anna. Walking didn't appeal, either and hitch-hiking was just too common for anything. So it happened that the conservative citizens of Manhattan were astonished the other morning to see on their main street the unusual spectacle of the 41-year-old mother and her high school daughter roller skating their way out of town. They skated the full 400 miles and said afterward, it was lots of fun.

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia" Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly. For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

WOMEN CAN NOW DO MORE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Keeps Them Well

Fifty years ago there were few occupations for women. Some taught school, some did housework, some found work to do at home and few took up nursing.

Today there are very few occupations not open to women. Today they work in great factories with hundreds of other women and girls. There are also women architects, lawyers, dentists, executives, and legislators. But all too often a woman wins her economic independence at the cost of her health.

Mrs. Elizabeth Chamberlain who works in the Unifall factory making overalls writes that she got "wonderful results" from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mrs. Chamberlain lives at 500 Monmouth St., Trenton, N. J. She recommends the Vegetable Compound to her friends in the factory and will gladly answer any letters she gets from women asking about it. Are you on the Sunlit Road to Better Health?

Phil is crazy with anxiety that he has lost Natalie forever; but he finds her at their old trying place. What she has to say to him, the final chapter tells.

The Theatre

By FLEET SMITH

NEW YORK, July 5.—The veteran and inveterate New York theater-goer has discovered during the last several months that his favorite byway, Broadway, has gone almost entirely "movie." The legitimate theaters have virtually all been shunted over to the side-streets and Flo Ziegfeld has gone so far as to take his new theater away over to Sixth Avenue and Fifty-fourth St.

Taking a stand on Broadway at Times Square, Forty-second Street, and looking northward, an observer will quickly realize the truth of the statement that the moving pictures have captured "The Great White Way." The first sight that would greet the eye, to the left or west side of the Street, would be the Rialto theater, where Paramount places its pictures after they have completed their big premiere runs; across the street is the Criterion Theater, also used by Paramount for its roadshows. Then, of course, comes the Paramount building and theater at the "crossroads of the world," Times Square at 43rd Street.

Further on up the street one would see the "King of Kings" at the Gaity, "The Big Parade" at the Astor, "The Garden of Allah" at the Embassy, "Camille" at the Globe, "In Old San Francisco" at Warner Bros. Theater; he also would see the Capitol and Strand running new pictures weekly; he would see Loew's New York, and Loew's State, both big picture houses; as a matter of fact the Winter Garden is about the only exclusively legitimate house along the famous street from Forty-second Street to Columbus Circle at 59th Street.

An era of sensible productions, sensible expenditures on production and sensible salaries for stars and executives has been inaugurated in moving pictures and the only wonder it has caused is why it has not been started long ago. Fabulous amounts have been spent on stupendous productions and almost unheard of salaries have been so-called stars and directors, even if you allow for a healthy discount on press agent salaries and production costs. Jesse L. Lasky has announced for Paramount that the leading executives have accepted a 25 per cent reduction in salary and that a ten per cent cut in all salaries over $50 a week go into effect in the California studios.

DESPONDENCY BECAUSE OF ILL HEALTH BLAMED FOR SUICIDE

Despondent because of continued ill health, Leander Luck, 69, fired a .38 calibre revolver into his right ear, in the rear of the garage, at his residence, 12 Elm St., Monday morning at 6:30 o'clock. He died immediately.

Members of his family and neighbors heard the report of the gun, but believing it was a firecracker, did not investigate. Thomas Corrigan, who lives next door, saw the body lying behind the garage about two hours later. Mr. Luck had placed an overcoat on the ground and laid down, before firing the gun.

The dead man had been in failing health and had been unable to work for about three weeks. He underwent an operation a year ago. He had been employed at the Hoover and Allison Cordage Mills a number of years.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Anna Luck and three sons, Oral and Howard Luck of Dayton and Clarence, at home. One brother, Rev. Charles Luck, Independence, Kan., and one sister, Mrs. Amanda McCollum, Georgetown, O., also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the residence Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock with interment in Woodland Cemetery. Services will be private, but friends may call at the Luck home after 4 p. m. Wednesday afternoon.

Over 150 years ago a proclamation was issued which contained among other "self evident truths" this statement:

"...all experience has shewn that mankind are more disposed to suffer while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed."

Human nature hasn't changed much in a century and a half, and perhaps this bit of philosophy could be studied to advantage by those unfortunate people who are always complaining, "How I wish I could get out of debt!" They realize the foolishness of spending Tomorrow's dollar Today, but they seem incapable of "abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed."

The J. C. Penney Company policy of paying cash as you go is the quickest and easiest way of getting the family budget on a sound thrift basis.

ARMS CONFERENCE IS DEADLOCKED

FOURTH TAKES HEAVY TOLL

SCORES KILLED AND INJURED AS NATION OBSERVES HOLIDAY

Ohio Proud Of Lowest
Casualty List In State
History

CHICAGO, July 5.—Scores were dead and hundreds injured in the midwest today as the result of fireworks, automobile, airplane and other accidents July 4.

In Chicago automobiles killed seven, one child was burned to death and sixty seriously injured by fireworks.

Three persons were drowned in Minnesota and four were fatal victims of automobile crashes.

Nine deaths, four of children, was the toll in California.

Forty-three lives were lost in Indiana in automobile accidents, airplane crashes, fireworks explosions and drownings.

Ethel Doane, 21, a parachute jumper, fell to her death at Indianapolis before thousands of spectators in an amusement park. The girl plunged into a tree when her parachute failed to open.

PITTSBURGH, July 5.—Fireworks and automobile accidents combined to take a toll of fifteen lives in Pennsylvania over the holiday, a survey today by International News Service showed.

In addition, 154 persons were injured in similar accidents.

Charles Little, 50, his wife and two small children were killed near here when a speeding express train hit their auto. Little's four other children, all under 12 years, were critically injured and may die.

COLUMBUS, O., July 5.—Ohio today was proudly considering the lowest holiday casualty list in the state's history.

Less than half a dozen persons were killed in automobile and drowning accidents, and there was not death reported from the use of fireworks.

Grade crossings and automobile accidents claimed nearly forty lives last Labor Day, the last general holiday on which the weather afforded comfortable motoring.

WILE SAYS:

What Of Wood?
Seeing Geneva
Another Byrd
Numbering Roads

By FREDERIC WILLIAM WILE

Exclusive Dispatch, Copyright 1927

WASHINGTON, July 5.—General Leonard Wood's friends are wondering whether the University of Pennsylvania is going to tender him its presidency. When he went to the Philippines, the post was offered him largely in the belief that if he took it, Wood's name would be something to conjure with in connection with the university's drive for a $40,000,000 endowment fund.

The plan was to split the executive leadership of the university in two parts. General Wood, as president, was to have charge of business administration, and Dr. Josiah H. Penniman, then provost, was to remain as such, at the head of academic activities. The presidency was held open for Wood a year, as it was supposed at the time that he wouldn't stay at Manilla longer than that. But when the year was up the general asked the university trustees to release him from any obligation to them. This was done, the two positions of president and provost were combined, and Dr. Penniman has held them ever since. The endowment drive meantime has met with fair success, and in Philadelphia there appears to be no further discussion of associating General Wood with the university.

For a country that avoids official intercourse with the League of Nations and all its works, these little old United States of ours are doing pretty well in the direction of sending representatives to Geneva ever and anon. So far this year we've had spokesmen on the Quay Woodrow Wilson at taxation, economic, naval and counterfeiting conferences. Now the superintendent of the nurse corps of the United States army, Major Julia C.

CRASH VICTIM

J. H. SHADRACH

J. H. Shadrach, shop foreman for The Ohio Fuel Gas Co., was killed Saturday when his auto collided head-on with another machine, three miles east of Jamestown on the Washington Pike. He was an active Mason.

XENIAN DIES AFTER AUTOMOBILE CRASH EAST OF JAMESTOWN

John H. Shadrach Fatal-
ly Hurt—Hold Funeral Monday

Funeral services for John H. Shadrach, 62, N. Detroit St., shop foreman, Ohio Fuel Gas Co., who died at McClellan Hospital, Saturday at 4 p. m., from injuries received when the gas company auto, loaded in the rear of his auto, crashed into the back of the car and into Mr. Shadrach's body. Harry Chambliss, W. Second St., pipeman for the gas company, riding with Shadrach, received only minor cuts and small injuries.

The crash occurred when Shadrach, driving toward Jamestown, passed one auto, coming in the opposite direction and then attempted to pass the car driven by Andrews. The heavy pipe was loaded in the truck body of the gas company car, extending through a trailer. It is believed that the car became unmanageable when Shadrach tried to pass the Andrews car. The cars met with a terrific impact, both being demolished. Neither Andrews or his wife, who was riding with him were hurt.

Drs. A. D. Ritenour and R. L. Haines, Jamestown, were called to the scene of the accident and rushed Shadrach to the McClellan Hospital, here, where he lived an hour. He received lacerations over his entire body, his right chest was crushed, his left arm mangled and cuts were inflicted about the neck and head. He never regained consciousness after the accident. Dr. F. M. Chambliss, coroner, investigated and is conducting an inquiry.

Mr. Shadrach resided in Xenia twenty-one years, coming here from Jackson, O., as an employee of the gas company. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary M. Shadrach and four children: Mrs. James O. Trip, Columbus; William J. Shadrach, Dayton; Charles Shadrach, Greenfield and Miss Gladys Shadrach, at home.

One brother, Frank Shadrach, Jackson, O., and three sisters, Mrs. Daniel Jenkins, Middletown; Mrs. W. H. Burns, Covington, Ky., and Mrs. James Kennison, Jackson, O., also survive.

The deceased was a member of the First M. E. Church, and the Masonic Lodge.

BURNED BY BLAST

CLEVELAND, July 5.—Joseph Hecht, 45, was in a critical condition today, following an explosion in the kitchen of the Lincoln Inn, at Mentor, near here yesterday. Hecht was burned about the head and body, and four other men who were helping him were seriously burned. Trouble with an artificial gas stove was assigned as the cause of the explosion. The inn was completely destroyed.

DELEGATES ARRIVE AS ANNUAL SESSION IS OPENED TUESDAY

Interesting Program Is
Arranged For Convention Here

Registration of members of the Ex-Pupils' Association, for the forty-seventh annual reunion at the O. S. and S. O. Home, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, began late Monday and early Tuesday morning.

Tuesday's program was given over to the "get-together" of former pupils at the institution. Those present had breakfast together at 7 o'clock and the Jeffries Orchestra, Xenia, gave a concert at 8 o'clock. Registration and the reception of ex-pupils began in earnest from 8 to 12 o'clock and dinner was served at 12. The afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock was devoted to visiting and renewing of old acquaintances, with a concert by the Jeffries Orchestra at 3 o'clock. A vaudeville show by members of the organization, followed by a "Charleston" contest, will be presented at the same time.

A "Hard Times Dance" when members of the association will array themselves in the oldest clothes obtainable, will be held Tuesday night, with music by the Jeffries Orchestra.

A business meeting will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, following breakfast at 7 and a concert at 8. Dinner will be served at 12 o'clock each day, with music during that period.

Memorial services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the chapel, honoring members of the association who have passed on. A baseball game will be staged at 3:30, an orchestra concert opening the afternoon program at 2 o'clock. A banquet, with orchestra music will be served at 6 o'clock, and the evening will be turned over to a "balloon dance."

A business meeting will be held on the pavilion, when officers will be elected, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. A concert will be held at 8 a. m., that day also. Sports for the children will be arranged for Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The boys and girls will oppose each other in baseball game at 2 o'clock. A concert by the orchestra will be given from 2:30 to 4, Thursday afternoon, and after supper, at 5:30, the grand ball, the closing feature of the reunion, will be held at 8 o'clock.

About 400 members of the association, from several states are expected to attend the reunion.

YOUTHS DROWN AS PRISONERS LOOK ON

OSHSING, N. Y., July 5.—Dragging the bed of the Hudson river with grappling hooks, Ossining police continued their search today for the bodies of three unidentified New York youths who drowned a few yards out from the Sing Sing prison bulkhead yesterday in a tragic holiday accident.

The three youths, who were in the choppy waters of the river, the deaths while more than a thousand convicts and prison guards looked on helplessly. Duty forbids the guards from freeing a dozen prisoners who begged, on their knees, tears streaming from their eyes, to be permitted to go to the rescue.

FOUR KILLED WHEN WOMAN LEADS FIGHT

MOSCOW, July 5.—Four persons were killed and five wounded in a running gun battle near Smolensk today between monarchist conspirators headed by a woman, M. V. Zacharchenko, and a police army detachment.

Three monarchists, including Madame Zacharchenko, and one army policeman were slain.

A CAREER AT EIGHTEEN

Hailed by the critics as one of the outstanding new novelists in England, Miss Molly Painter Downes, 18-year-old author, has scored a tremendous success in her home country with her first book, "The Shoreless Sea."

YOUNG COAST GUARD OFFICER BLUFFS RUM RUNNER ARREST

Ensign Captures Twenty Men And $500,000 Cargo With Half Empty Pistol And Strong And Bold Bluff

NEW YORK, July 5.—Ensign Charles L. Duke is in line today for the highest honors that the coast service can confer as the result of his daring act in leaping aboard a moving rum runner in the upper bay, seizing her liquor cargo, valued at $500,000, and by sheer bluff and resourcefulness cowing and arresting her crew of twenty-two Nova Scotia fishermen.

The young ensign, a six-footer, had only two years' experience of coast guard work.

He was patrolling the harbor in the tiny launch CG-2327, when he observed a suspicious-looking vessel creeping along the Bay Ridge shore. She was salt-caked and dirty, and kept right on past Quarantine, up the narrow tow and the upper bay.

Ensign Duke steered his launch near enough to be able to read the name on the vessel's side, Economy.

Then he called to the captain to heave-to, but the demand was ignored.

The ensign fired two shots as a warning, but the vessel kept on. By this time the little launch was being swept by waves, and the ensign's uniform was drenched. He suddenly grabbed the heavily-laden freighter's rail and swung aboard, armed only with a flash light and a revolver containing three bullets.

His only chance was to bluff. Turning to Chief Boatwains Mate Madsen, he exclaimed, "If I'm not out of that pilot house in two minutes you turn the machine gun on them."

The ensign gun existed only in the ensign's imagination, but Madsen nodded. Ensign Duke groped his way into the deck-house. He was stopped by a burly seaman, who wanted to know where he was going. A second later the seaman was sprawling senseless on the deck.

RELIABILITY TOUR PLANES IN DAYTON

DAYTON, O., July 5.—The thirteen planes of the Ford reliability tour left here early today for a short flight to Norwalk, Conn., following their 200-mile journey from Kalamazoo, Mich. Eddie Stinson, of Detroit, piloting a Waco plane, was still leading the field in the reliability competition with 4323.5 points, with H. C. Mummet, Detroit, second, 3548.2 points; and Robert Page, piloting a Hamilton ship, third, 3527.6 points.

The planes will proceed late this afternoon from Columbus to Cincinnati, continuing their swing around the country. Pilots were guests at a public dinner last night, and they will be similarly honored in Columbus, where an air circus, with exhibition and stunt flights as features, will be held in their honor.

INABILITY OF U. S. TO ACCEPT BRITISH DEMAND IS BLAMED

May Permit Cruiser
Question To Hold
Over To 1931

GENEVA, July 5.—A state of complete deadlock at the tri-partite naval arms limitation conference here was reached today when the naval experts' committee adjourned indefinitely its labors "to permit the various delegations to seek a means of adjusting the cruiser needs of the different powers."

The deadlock resulted directly from inability of the United States to agree to Great Britain's demand for seventy-eight cruisers totaling about 600,000 tons. It was understood here today that the United States delegation had received instructions from Washington that unless an agreement on cruiser strength could be reached, practically on the basis of a proposal put forward by an American delegate allowing 400,000 tons of cruiser strength each for Great Britain and the United States, that it would be better to allow the cruiser question to rest in abeyance until 1931.

The naval limitations treaties signed at the Washington conference, which have to do with capital ships, expire in 1931 unless renewed.

The American proposition represented a compromise between the United States' first proposal of 250,000 to 300,000 cruiser tonnage each for Great Britain and the United States, and the British demand for nearly 600,000 tons. This American compromise proposition was presented at the experts' committee meeting, and almost immediately the work of the committee was adjourned without a set date for another meeting.

This action left the arms conference without a committee meeting scheduled with the members of the various delegations conferring independently within their own ranks.

Following the adjournment, the experts' committee issued a communique saying the adjournment was taken with "a view to permitting the various delegations to seek a means of adjusting the cruiser needs of the different powers."

The communique also declared an agreement had been reached respecting submarines, but later it was authoritatively learned that the agreement was only to limit submarine torpedo tubes to twenty-one inches size, and that no agreement had been reached on the tonnage or number of submarines to be allowed the various powers.

TWO KILLED WHEN AIRPLANE FALLS

CINCINNATI, O., July 5.—Two men were dead and another suffering from serious injuries today, as the result of the crash of a commercial airplane on Laughery Island, near Ripley Sun, Ind., yesterday afternoon. Harry Danbury, 24, Ripley Sun, Ind., 30, both of whom were passengers, were killed, and Edward Roefling, Clevela, O., pilot was being treated at Jewish Hospital here today. The plane was circling above a powerboat which had been participating in the annual Ohio River regatta, when the pilot turned too sharply, and the crash followed.

CROSSING TRAGEDY CLAIMS MAN, WIFE

WELLINGTON, O., July 5.—Kenneth Hines, 29, and his wife, Gladys, 28, were dead today following a crossing crash near midnight Monday, when their auto was struck by a fast Big Four train at the Main Street crossing here.

A three-year-old daughter of the couple, carried 1,500 feet on the pilot of the engine, after the crash, was picked up unconscious but will recover, according to attending physicians.

Hines was a Wellington garage-man.

DETROIT BALLOON SEEN OVER MARION

MARION, O., July 5.—One of the five balloons which left Detroit late yesterday in the annual race, was sighted over Marion early today, and persons with field glasses established its identity as Detroit No. 3, piloted by A. G. Schlosser and E. J. Hill. The big white bag was drifting in the direction of Columbus when last seen, shortly after 8 o'clock.

ACCIDENTS MAR 5—TWO

CLEVELAND, July 5.—Two accidents marred Cleveland's Fourth of July celebration. Charles Czig, 15, had a finger blown off his right hand and R. M. Fulton suffered burns to her right eye, when a torpedo exploded.

GOLF-LUNCHEON AT COUNTRY CLUB MONDAY

The Xenia Country Clubhouse was filled during the morning, noon and afternoon of the Fourth, when club members and guests spent a most enjoyable Independence Day.

Golf attracted both men and women to the greens during the day. A men's tournament started in the morning and continued after lunch. Women participated in a handicap tournament, and a mixed tourney in the afternoon engaged a large number of players.

Concessions were laid for luncheon. Mrs. J. H. Whitmer, Mrs. H. L. Sayre and Mrs. J. O. McDorman formed the luncheon committee. The crowd remained during the afternoon but the clubhouse was quietly deserted in the late evening.

A dinner-dance will be held at the club July 15.

LAIST SUIT BEING TRIED SECOND TIME BEFORE JURY HERE

Second jury trial of the $10,852 damage suit of Mrs. Frances C. Laist, this city, wife of Professor Theodore Laist, of Antioch College, against Dr. A. B. Kester, Xenia dentist, based on an auto accident more than a year and one-half ago in which Mrs. Laist claims to have sustained personal injuries, began in Common Pleas Court Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Laist filed the original petition February 2, 1926 and was awarded $2,500 damages by a jury trial May 6, 1926.

Defendant appealed to the Court of Appeals and the higher court reversed the decision, remanding the case for a new trial.

Personnel of the jury: Clarence Anderson, Miami Twp.; M. J. Bobb, Xenia; Ola Ginn, Xenia Twp.; Orpha Sayres, Beaver Creek Twp.; William Stevenson, Miami Twp.; Charles S. Smith, Xenia Twp.; J. B. Hess, Sugar Creek Twp.; Anna Bridgman, Cedarville Twp.; D. A. Brewer, Miami Twp.; C. T. Walker, Silver Creek Twp.; Harry Hurley, Spring Valley Twp.; Ella Gee, Xenia.

APPRAISERS NAMED IN PARTITION CASE IN COUNTY COURTS

DESCRIBES ORIENT TO ROTARY GUESTS

Mrs. William Magee Wilson vividly described her tour of the Orient for the entertainment of Xenia Rotary Club, at the Elks' Club Tuesday noon. Mrs. Wilson has used her travels as a talk basis before several local clubs and societies and she is always well received.

She was introduced to the Rotarians by R. D. Adair, who also presented her with a bouquet of carnations, on behalf of the club, at the close of her talk.

FIRECRACKER IS BLAMED FOR BLAZE

A firecracker which exploded on the roof caused $5 damages at the home of George Sturgeon, 113 S. Whiteman St., shortly after 7 o'clock Monday evening. A small hole was burned in the roof before firemen used chemicals to extinguish the blaze. The house is owned by Ed Sanz. In spite of large amount of fireworks exploded here, the fire was the only one reported over the week-end.

"BAYER ASPIRIN" PROVED SAFE

Fake without Fear as Told in "Bayer" Package

Does not affect the Heart

Unless you see the "Bayer Cross" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer Aspirin proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians over twenty-five years for:

|-----------|------------|
| Colds | Headache |

Each unbroken "Bayer" package contains proven directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Drugs also sell bottles of 24 and 100.

Recognize Her?

It was as Irene Castle that she first became famous. Now, the wife of the wealthy Frederick A. McLaughlin, she is a fashion arbiter and social leader. This picture was taken as she watched the intercollegiate polo matches, at the Westchester-Biltmore Country club at Rye, N. Y.

THREE ARRESTED IN WEEK-END TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS HERE

Three arrests were made by Kenneth C. Barr, county road patrolman, over the week-end in connection with two motorists on charges of reckless driving and a third accused of intoxication and possession of liquor.

Leroy Jeffries, Dayton, charged with the liquor offenses following his arrest on Main St., was released without bond pending arraignment before Probate Judge S. C. Wright Wednesday. Jeffries had two half-pints of liquor in his possession when arrested, the official said. The Dayton man is also said to have been involved in several minor auto accidents on the Dayton Pike before he was arrested.

W. E. Thompson, Dayton, will be arraigned in Probate Court Wednesday on a charge of reckless driving. Barr arrested him at Alpha for allegedly passing autos on curves in the highway.

Horace Baker, colored, Dayton, arrested at Zimmerman on a charge of reckless driving, forfeited $15 bond.

DOPE RING CAUGHT

CLEVELAND, July 5.—Four men and three women, alleged members of a "healing" cult, were being held today, following their arrest by federal narcotic agents and police here yesterday. The raiders say they found six cans of opium in a bathroom medicine cabinet at the scene of the arrest.

ADAM THINKS HE'S CONSORT OF EVE

Methuselah's record for longevity was nothing compared with that being set by Adam Tucker, 47, Dayton, if statements made by the latter to Police Chief M. E. Graham Monday may be given credence.

Tucker, a lunatic, arrested by Patrolman George Robinson Monday, had escaped from the Dayton State Hospital, and was returned to that institution Tuesday.

He informed police with pride that he was born near Jerusalem, exactly 17,743 years ago and is the original Adam of the Biblical story of Adam and Eve.

CONSTABLES MUST SERVE SENTENCES

DAYTON, O., July 5.—Constable Earl Severs was sentenced to serve twenty months on three counts concurrently in the Atlanta, Ga., federal prison, while Constable W. J. Sidwell was given a four month's sentence in the Miami County Jail at Troy by Federal Judge Benson W. Hough in United States District Court in Dayton Tuesday.

The arrest of Severs and Sidwell known as the "raiding twins," climaxed a liquor cleanup in Montgomery County recently. They were then indicted on charges of conspiracy to violate the liquor laws despite their protestations of innocence.

LEVI DRAKE AGAIN IN POLICE TOILS

Levi Drake, Home Ave., was arrested by Peter Shagin and Kenneth C. Barr, motorcycle policemen, on a charge of disorderly conduct Tuesday morning and placed in a cell at Police Headquarters, prior to arraignment before Mayor John W. Prugh Tuesday or Wednesday.

Drake's arrest followed his attempt to force an entrance into the home of a neighbor, who notified police.

Drake admitted driving an auto into a ditch Monday evening.

GIRL INJURED WHEN MACHINES COLLIDE ALONG PIKE SUNDAY

Miss Martha Kelble, daughter of Mrs. William Kelble, W. Second St., is in Espey Hospital, with a deep cut in her forehead and other minor cuts, received when the auto in which she was riding with Russell

Vannorsdall and Clarence Brennan, both of this city, met in a head-on collision with the car driven by Emmett Westfall, Jeffersonville, four miles west of that village Sunday evening.

Vannorsdall and Brennan were only slightly cut. Westfall's brother-in-law, the other occupant of the second machine, was seriously cut. It is alleged that Westfall lost control of his car, a short distance from the Xenia machine, coming in the opposite direction toward Xenia.

What Dr. Caldwell Learned in 47 Years Practice

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for forty-seven years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. In a practice of forty-seven years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without gripping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. Use!

WRITING LETTERS

The friendly art of writing letters is falling into disuse. Most letters nowadays are not written. They are promised, anticipated, thought about, and talked about.

"I really meant to write. One thing and another prevented it."

Analyze "one thing and another." We find half the things were trivial and time-wasting.

Letters of the right sort have two fine and fundamental effects. First, they relieve the mind and clarify the thinking of the writer.

Second, they bring a new and important sense of right human relationships to the recipient.

Intimate, personal letters usually show a man at his best. His hardness and his intolerance fall away. We discover what kind of man he really is.

Who can really know Theodore Roosevelt without reading his letters to his children?

Who can understand the intellectual inwardness of Woodrow Wilson without reading his letters to Woodrow Wilson?

Robert Browning is known less by his poetry than by his letters to Elizabeth Barrett.

But there are examples known to fame and set up for the emulation of posterity.

Letter writing is just as much the friendly craft for common folk as for the great. The trouble is we do not practice it.

Today's letters—the ones we have to write—we dictate wearily. They begin, "I am in receipt of yours of the fifteenth and beg to state that the shipment is all wrong."

There is no improvement in human relationships in that sort of thing.

Friendliness is not an accident. It is not a happenstance.

Friendliness is an art to be studied and cultivated. It is like a garden—to be made to produce beauty.

Why not a movement to revive the friendly art of letter writing?

"Hailed as a representative of modern youth, Colonel Lindbergh is actually a living challenge and rebuke to our bumptious and over-praised younger generation," declares a writer in "Patches Weekly." "Lindbergh," continues the editorial, "has captivated a world which was beginning to find the pretentiousness of modern youth rather a bore. The young Colonel's total abstinence extends far beyond liquor. He does not smoke; he does not swear; he does not gamble; he does not dance; he does not seek diversion in anything more frivolous than flying. In a word this idol of a delirious populace is a model of all the copy-book virtues, a pattern of those unfashionable attributes which our cynical young people disdain as Victorianism."

UNTIL THE FACTS ARE IN

Chicago teachers, given some new rules as objectives in teaching, are "to develop in the pupil the habit of suspending judgment until evidence is collected."

That's a high-class rule for grown-ups as well as boys and girls. Wait until the evidence is in. Rumors have nothing to do with evidence. Hopes, opinions, and wishes have nothing to do with evidence. Evidence has to do with facts. It would be a sweeter world if we had the forbearance to hold back an opinion until the evidence is in.

WHY BE OF LITTLE FAITH?

A young man flies across the ocean and rings up his mother on the telephone. And yet we are so often finding ourselves short on faith when we are asked to believe in some of life's greater realities. What is a miracle? Where does it begin and where does it leave off? Even yet we "see through a glass darkly."

WHAT IS THERE LEFT?

A member of the National Woman's party, en route to a convention, is described by a newspaper as being interested in obtaining "equal rights for women." We thought they had all been obtained long ago. What's lacking? The trouble is the minds of some women who are concerned with equal rights is that they want all of the exemptions and few of the duties.

BELIEVE IN PENNIES

A penny doesn't seem like a lot of money when you put it in a weighing machine. But the president of a weighing machine company recently took out his pennies and bought one of the finest yachts afloat. There never was a million dollars that couldn't somehow be translated into pennies.

SPILT MILK

SPILT milk is wasted, every bit—It's gone, and that's the end of it. No tears, no sighs, for what-might-be is my spilt-milk-philosophy.

When boys break windows with a ball, The panes are broken—that is all. Accidents happen now and then, I've noticed, to some grown-up men.

And if I spoil a cake or pie I give no loud, heart-broken cry. Scorched and ruined apple-sauce I charge to profit and to loss.

But I am mourning to this day The time, when at a picnic gay, Through my own stupid, careless fault, I got the ice cream full of salt!

Alas! Poor Yorick!

KELLYGRAMS by FRED C. KELLY

WAITERS AS PHILOSOPHERS

I asked a hotel waiter yesterday if he doesn't find it difficult at times to keep his temper. A pompous guest had just been snapping his fingers at the waiter and calling his attention to various personal shortcomings.

"No," he told me, "that's all part of the job. We waiters are taught to keep our tempers. In fact, we are paid for it."

Then he went on to tell me how in certain well-managed hotels, part of the regular course of instruction for waiters includes a lecture on the necessity of adopting a philosophical attitude of mind toward a customer with an ugly disposition.

The waiter's feeling, after his course of training, is supposed to be something like this:

"When a customer gets mad and talks nasty, or when for any reason he is discourteous, it isn't because he has a personal grudge against me, but because he has an unfortunate disposition that is sure to show itself from time to time. I'm paid to keep my temper and not talk back. Many men are so down-trodden at the office that they have to show their teeth once in a while and they pick on the waiter, thinking he is an inferior. But when I keep my temper, I'm really superior to the man who can't keep his, and who forgets to behave as a gentleman towards great or humble."

And why isn't that a shrewd line of philosophy for anybody, whether he happens to be waiter or banker?

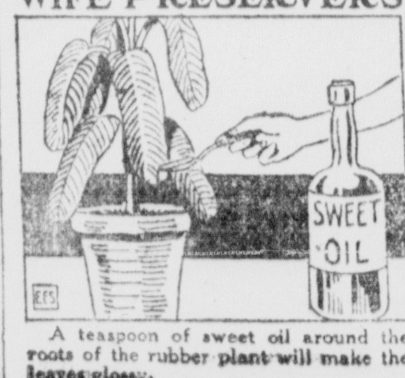

I'm always hearing somebody tell about plans for getting back at this fellow or that. Anybody can get even if he's willing to pay the price in having himself all riled up until he's unfit for work. But the cleverest man is he who, like a waiter, knows that tolerating a disagreeable temper or cocky talk is just part of the routine of his job.

If a man says something intended to make you mad, and you don't get mad, he may think the joke is on you. But it's really on him.

NO HAIRCUT FOR VELMA

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Faced with the necessity for having her hair cropped close and remaining under the comparatively mild discipline at White's penal school, or retaining her permanent wave beneath the sterner restrictions of the Good Shepherd school at Indianapolis, Velma Van Kirk, 15-year-old girl, chose to take her chance with the Indianapolis institution rather than sacrifice her hair. Velma is classed as a dependent girl, but not a delinquent, and the Good Shepherd home cares for both types. So they took Velma to Indianapolis, but her curly locks remained on her head.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

THE ATONIC ABDOMINAL WALL

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Peters cannot advise you individually. That is the province of your personal physician. She will answer questions in the column if they are of general interest, as soon as possible. When writing her for any material that is offered in the column, enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. Don't write "City." (For the reducing pamphlet you must also include a two-cent stamp extra.) Don't write over 200 words, any type or write them legibly with ink. Address your letters to her in care of this paper. Unless these rules are complied with, the materials cannot be sent.

(Atonic—Lack of Tone)

There is one set of muscles that we all feel a tender interest in, and that is our heart set. Do you know that if all the other muscles of your body are flabby and lack tone, your heart muscles do also? I'm afraid I haven't written enough on the importance of exercise, and I intend to bring it up often in the future.

There are too many who feel that exercise is beneficial solely to the muscles. By realizing that the heart muscles are included, and that there are muscle tissues in the blood vessels and the intestinal walls, that vigorous exercise flatters up the joints, speeds up the circulation, bringing more fresh blood with its nutriment and oxygen, and speeding on the waste products, so activating every organ in the body, you will realize more fully what exercise means.

There is another very important fact: a well-exercised muscle has a great prejudice against any excess fat around and over it.

There is one set of exercises which is more important than any other. This is the set which brings into play the trunk muscles. Because they have so much to do with holding the internal organs in place, many disorders can arise when they are relaxed. There is hardly any work, no matter how strenuous, that exercises the trunk muscles sufficiently, so special exercises for them should be practiced.

It is best, before beginning any strenuous physical exercises, to have a check-up by your physician. If you are very much overweight, it is well to reduce somewhat by your diet first.

If you will do these exercises I give you, they will not only strengthen your abdominal muscles and prevent the accumulation of fat in that region and in the hips and thighs, but they will also keep your spine flexible and fully "adjusted." While the exercises may not cure hernias of long standing, (only an operation may do that,) they are advised, for they may reduce the hernia opening. They certainly might prevent hernias from forming.

You should begin all these exercises with a small number, say not more than three, and gradually increase them to ten or so. Then keep them up for the rest of your life! Rest a few moments as soon as you are tired. This is highly important. You probably will be lame from them for a while anyway but if you don't carry out my directions for increasing them gradually, and resting, you may be so lame that you will be disabled for a while. It may be advisable to begin with the exercises on your couch or bed until you are limbered up somewhat.

Exercise 1—Put some news-

How to Achieve Beauty

MME. HELENA RUBENSTEIN

THE BENEFITS OF FRESH FRUITS

It hardly seems necessary for me to emphasize the health and beauty value of fresh fruits, because this subject has been discussed so much that it would seem that any one who gives a serious thought to self care could not be oblivious to the benefits to be derived from the frequent eating of them.

Yet one has only to sit in the dining room of a smart hotel or restaurant to realize that there are still many people who yield to the habit of a cup of coffee in the morning instead of fresh fruit juice or a cooked cereal instead of a raw apple. Or for luncheon, one sees people eagerly consuming some French chef's favorite concoction instead of a simple fruit salad.

Many a woman who yearns for health and beauty would think she were badly abused if she were served with a raw carrot or two or a glass of buttermilk, some dates or an apple with a glass of sweet milk. Whereas these very foods would help give her the beauty she yearns for.

For instance, I would like to stop right here and write a whole article on the health giving value of apples and despite the fact that it is hackneyed, I cannot refrain from quoting again the old slogan—"an apple a day, keeps the doctor away."

I sometimes think if apples were more costly, they would be more appreciated. I myself have many times brought me several times a day, a dish of cored and quartered apples.

If you heed these fundamental rules you will be laying the right sort of a foundation for your beauty specialist and preparations to work on.

She Flies

For Mrs. Lorenza Oelze, it is claimed that she is the only woman in the world who operates her own commercial flying field. When her husband, Carl Oelze, died recently, she carried on his business. Herself an enthusiastic aviatrix she owns several planes and herself flies frequently.

Many Minds SIGNIFICANT SAYINGS OF THE DAY

"One per cent of the population of the United States receives twenty per cent of the income, ten per cent receives forty per cent, and twenty-five per cent receives three and one-half per cent of the income. A careful estimate recently made indicates that wealth is more unequally distributed than income. A continual tendency toward concentration is evident in railroads, industry and finance. The corporate form makes possible an irresponsible ownership and accentuates operation for profit only."—Dr. Willard Thorp, professor of economics at Amherst College.

"Time is really the only capital that any human being has, and the one thing that he can't afford to lose."—Thomas Edison, inventor.

Little Old New York

NEW YORK, July 5.—Thumbing through some New York

The Gold-Digger. Angela is the daughter of a respectable grocer in a small town in Mississippi, who is also a deacon in the Baptist church. Her parents have always been industrious and thrifty and so Angela has never known the pinch of actual poverty. She was given a good common school and high school education and her parents figured to send her to one of the numerous finishing schools in the south or to college.

But Angela had ideas of her own. She was an independent girl with a voracious temperament, who enjoyed people into doing anything she wanted them to do, either by pouting and pretending to be deeply hurt or by violent outbursts of weeping and angry tantrums.

Angela was stage-struck. She had wanted to join a stock company in the days when girls with stage ambitions considered stock company tramping instead of acting in the movies, and when their ultimate destination was Broadway in the land of Hollywood. Angela thought she would become another Olga Netherole or Julia Marlowe; she had the notion of becoming a Mary Pickford or Constance Talmadge.

Angela had no looks sufficiently inflammatory to be a serious menace to the peace of mind of any man. In fact, she was, except for her eyes and her coloring, decidedly plain. Her body was rather gross above the waist and weakened below. Her bosom was matronly and her legs were skinny. But she had (and has) an ugly mouth that was (and is) at once voluptuous and pouty in an innocent looking fashion. In fact, her sole beauty asset has been this month, which makes her look as though she had been released untaught and inexperienced into the world and that at the same time she is devilishly fast and eager to make up for lost time.

When I speak of this beauty asset of her mouth, of course, I mean in the matter of attracting a certain kind of man, a gross, predatory, thick-skinned sort of fellow who has been accustomed to meretricious women.

Angela consulted the managers of stock companies every time they played in the local theater, begging for an opportunity to go on the road with their shows. She met not only with success, but, in many instances, with abrupt and brutal comments. "Say, whaddya think I could do in my company with a goll wid a mug like yours?" "You ain't cut out for no chorus girl, sister, not wid dem pipe-stem legs you got," or "Say, I gotta 'nough dames wid no experience and no brains on my salary list' now. Take my advice, sister, and marry one of dese hicks and get yourself a real meat ticket for life and not be counting on getting busted in Duluth. If you think you just gotta ack, ack in dese Sunday school plays. Dey gotem here, ain't dey?"

But one time Angela interviewed a trouper manager who was of the type whose self-interest would be attracted by that curious mouth of hers to such an extent that he would think it worth the cost to him to add her to his salary list, even if she could not act. And he did.

Angela did not last very long with the stock company. Angela was, as they say, a good girl. But even while trouping she had learned many things which she later used to her advantage.

She had learned, for instance, that with ordinary luck, while traveling on trains she would not have to pay for her meals on the diner. All she had to do was to scrape up acquaintance with a middle-aged elderly man who was traveling alone and make him think that he was the one who had scraped up the acquaintance. Young men would not do, they never had the paternal attitude and they did not care to take him that she had only a very little money in her purse; it always shooed them off. But with middle-aged and elderly men it always worked. They not only bought her meals, but offered to advance her small "loans."

One middle-aged man, after paying for her meals from Pittsburgh to New York, offered to pay her room rent for a month while she was getting a job that would take her on the road to stardom on Broadway. She pretended to abhor such a suggestion, but not so much as to frighten the offer away; and at last she accepted it.

This middle-aged man took profit from his generosity by calling up on her several times during the month and he appeared to be smitten with her sentimentality. He told her he was lonely and unmarried and that he would like to see Angela up in an apartment. Angela fended away his sentiment, very coyly by intimating that she liked him but thought of him only as a father. It worked. She got an apartment; but only for six months.

Meanwhile she had learned many, if not most, of the tricks of the gold-digger. These are tricks by which young women or women get things without giving anything in return. She learned that a platinum wrist-watch, given as a present, may be re-sold or pawned for enough to live on comfortably for a week or so.

She also learned that, if her trunk was large enough and her hotel bill was paid regularly, she could raise cash when she had none by a very simple means. She would buy fifteen or twenty dollars' worth of stuff at a department store and have it sent C. O. D. Then she would manage not to be at the hotel when it arrived. The clerk would pay for the stuff out of the till and charge it to her account. Next day she would take the articles back to the department store, say she decided not to keep them, and get the money back.

Angela learned many tricks. But she has neither character nor looks nor ability enough to get ahead in the theater or in any other permanent venture in life. She is always only a few days away from bankruptcy. And in a few years, the deceiving look of innocence on her mouth will be betrayed by her very obvious years and hardness.

MAKING MODERN MENUS

Mrs. Jones—"You were asking me for that recipe for muffins. I found it, and also a recipe for bread that is delicious to serve at luncheons."

TEA MUFFINS

One cup whole bread crumbs, one cup milk, half cup molasses, one egg, one and a half cups whole wheat flour, one-half teaspoon salt, half teaspoon soda, three teaspoons baking powder, half teaspoon cinnamon, half teaspoon nutmeg, one-fourth teaspoon cloves, two tablespoons melted fat.

Soften the bread crumbs in the milk and add egg, slightly beaten, molasses and fat. Mix dry ingredients and add at one time to other mixture. Bake about twenty-five minutes in medium oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit).

TEA BREAD

Two cups whole wheat flour, half teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup sugar, three teaspoons baking powder, half cup peanut butter, one cup milk, three-fourths cup chopped dates or raisins.

Mix the dry ingredients, rub in peanut butter, add fruit and stir in milk. Pour into small bread pan and bake in moderate oven (300 degrees Fahrenheit) about an hour.

Reserves Run Winning Streak To Five Games Here

VICTORIES ON BOTH SUNDAY AND MONDAY BRING HUGE SCORES

Cyphers And Payton Twirl Locals To Two More Wins

Reserves rolled their latest winning streak to five in a row and registered their eleventh and twelfth victories of the season by winning both weekend contests at Washington Park, slaughtering the Springfield Eds-Tallors, a colored nine, 19 to 4 Sunday, and overwhelming the Dayton Andrews Pumps, an amateur "kid" team, 14 to 4 in the Fourth of July game.

Both games were of a farcical nature to say the least for the caliber of the opposition was undoubtedly the poorest of the season. The games only served to fatten batting averages of members of the Reserve nine. Johnson, Reserve gardener, came out of his batting slump with a vengeance in every inning but the fifth and thumping out three hits Sunday and four more safeties Monday.

Cyphers twirled the Springfield contest with Russ Payton working the holiday classic. The Sunday contest was a massacre in every sense of the word, Reserves scoring one or two runs in every inning but the fifth and collecting thirteen hits. The team also stole six bases.

Monday's game was almost as bad. Only in the third and sixth frames did the Reserves fail to score. Locals connected for eighteen hits and ran the bases at will, stealing eight sacks.

The opposition for the Fourth of July contest was furnished by an aggregation of school boys, none of whom were more than eighteen years of age.

QUOIT CLUB PLAYS DAYTON EASTWOOD

Xenia Quoit Club has a wonderful opportunity to take third place in the Miami Valley Quoit League in the inter-city match with the Dayton Eastwood Club on the local courts Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Eastwood sustained a 15 to 3 drubbing last week, administered by the Dayton N. C. R. team while Xenia was defeating the Dayton Shriners 10 to 8.

Only about six games separate Xenia and Eastwood, and the local team can better its position in the league standing by a decisive win Tuesday.

Xenia has not been defeated in its past five matches, winning three and breaking even in the other two.

All members of the local team are asked to be present for Tuesday night's match.

CORNS

Stops pain in one minute

You will forget you ever had a corn one minute after you apply Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads—that's how quick they end all pain. When the corn is gone it never comes back. If new shoes irritate the spot, a Zino-pad fixes it overnight!

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads are thin, medicated, antiseptic, protective, healing, safe, sure, quick, lasting results guaranteed. Get a box at your druggist's or shoe dealer's—35c.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads
Put one on—the pain is gone!

TOURNAMENTS MARK GOLF CLUB HOLIDAY

Perfect weather attracted many members to the Xenia Country Club course Fourth of July, where a handicap golf tournament was staged in the morning and a mixed tournament in the afternoon.

Jack Barlow, Xenia's foremost golfer, won the morning tournament, and Barlow, paired with Miss Betty Kingsbury, took first prize in the mixed tourney in the afternoon.

In this event, W. Crawford Craig and Mrs. George I. Graham won second place, and George R. Kelly and Mrs. Charles A. Weaver third place.

Luncheon was served in the club house at noon by women members of the club.

The fireworks display scheduled for the evening, was not held.

THE ALIBI THAT FAILED

CHICAGO.—When Harvey Johnson told the judge he wasn't drunk, honest, but that he got that way falling to the floor while hanging a picture, the judge laughed up his sleeve and wasn't at all fooled.

He sentenced Johnson to have his picture taken while he was being shaved and to hang it on a wall at home so that he could take a look at the picture whenever he felt like taking a drink.

Underwood and Underwood

Ed Kehoe, a truck driver of Fairbanks, Alaska, won this year's Nenana ice pool, based on guesses as to the time the ice will move out of Alaska's chief harbor. Kehoe won $40,000 for estimating the exact hour, day and minute, of the breaking up of the ice barrier, the first time so accurate a prophecy had been made.

Inherit Fortune

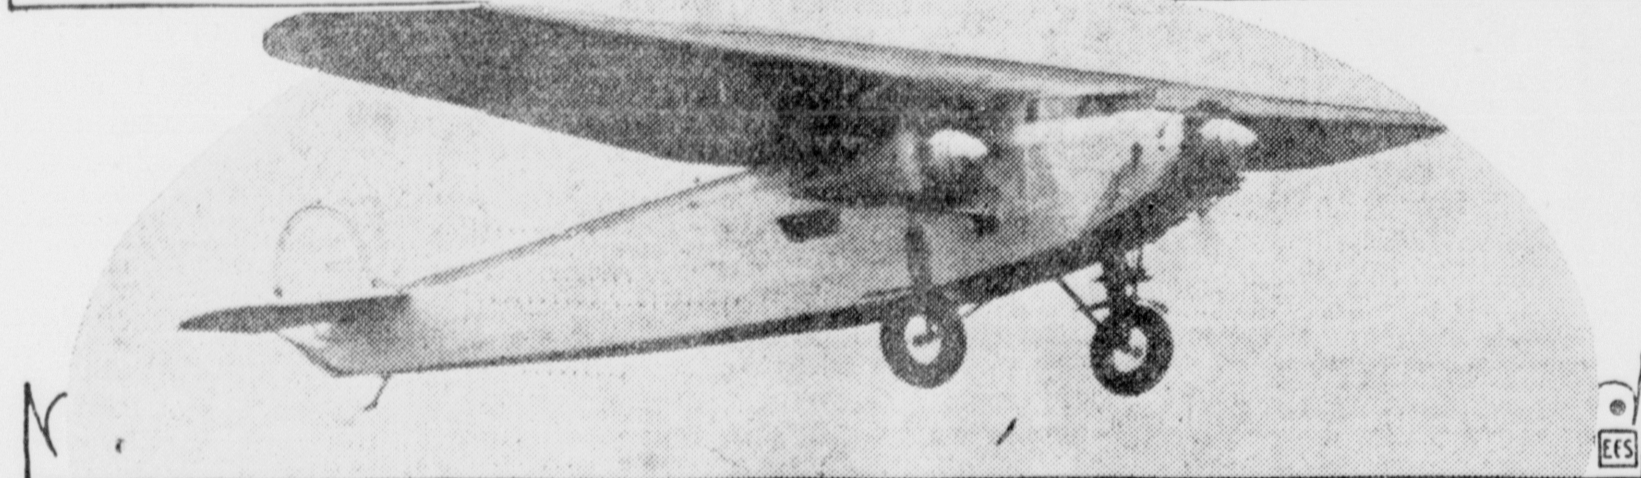

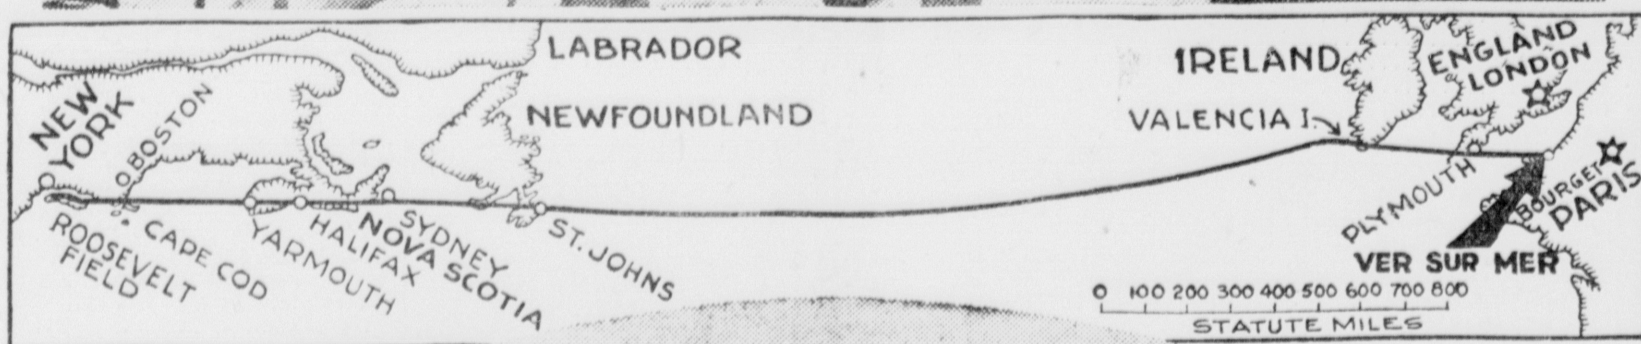

Meet Lord and Lady Cowdray. They inherit one of the largest fortunes in Great Britain since Lord Cowdray's father was England's oil king, the John D. Rockefeller of the British empire.

J. P. Morgan

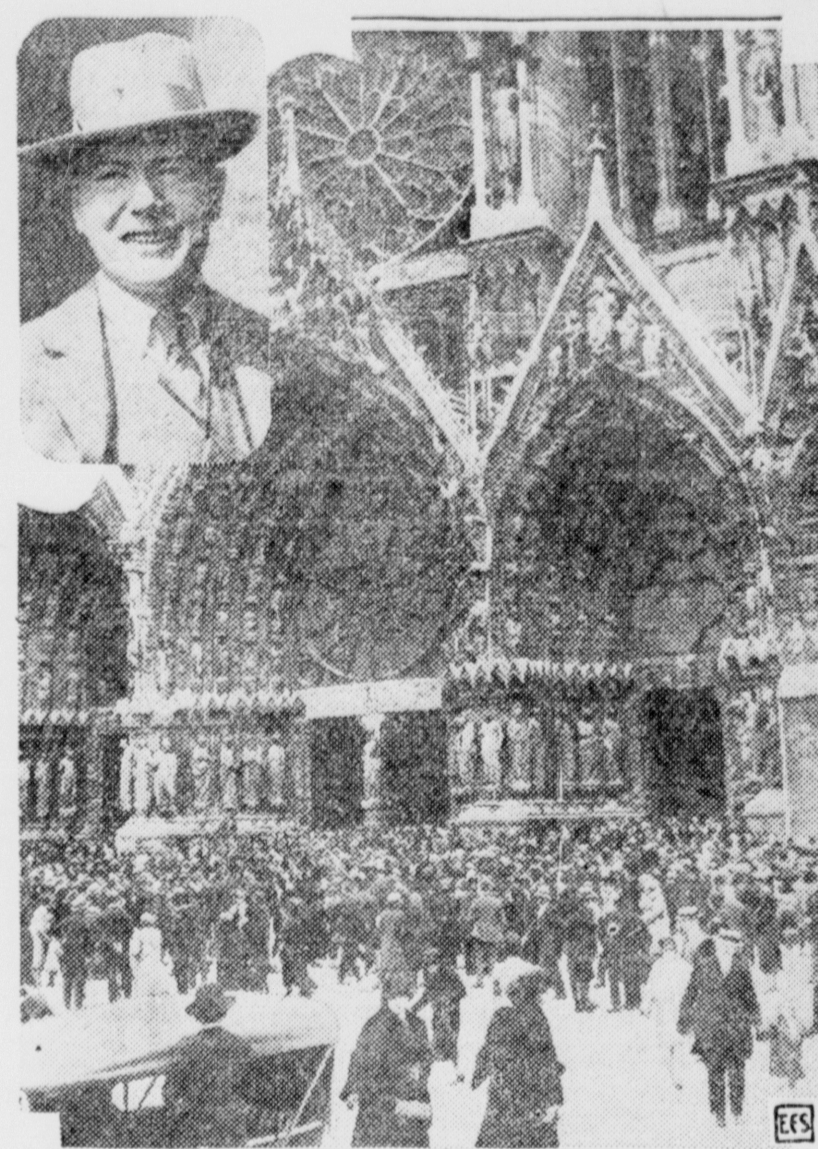

It isn't often that J. P. Morgan permits himself to be photographed, but when he marched in the alumni parade on the Harvard campus at the recent commencement, an enterprising picture man managed to get this lifelike snapshot of the famous financier.

BYRD'S GALLANT VENTURE ENDS WITHIN SIGHT OF PARIS

Battling head winds, mist, and heavy rain squalls, the tri-motored Fokker monoplane America, with its crew of four, was forced down on the French coast at Ver Sur Mer, near Havre, about 135 miles west of Paris. The crew was saved, but the airship was smashed in making the forced landing. In the picture are the America, first airplane to cross the Atlantic with more than two passengers, and her crew, from left to right, Bert Acosta, Commander Byrd, Lieut. George Noville and Berndt Balchen. The map shows Byrd's course, and the spot where the forced landing was made.

FIRST SERVICE IN NEW RHEIMS

After nine years of labor, the beautiful cathedral at Rheims has been restored to its pre-war beauty and the first service celebrated within its rebuilt walls. The picture shows the crowd which attended the service, and inset, a portrait of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., whose latest gift is $1,600,000 to complete the work on the cathedral and on repairing Fontainebleau and Versailles palaces.

Brothers, Sisters in Triple Golden Wedding

Two brothers and their sister were married on the same day in 1877, and now they are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary jointly. Left to right—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Manney, and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Manney, of Cherryville, N. C.; and Mr. and Mrs. Mell Rudisille, Cherryville, N. C.

It Didn't Work

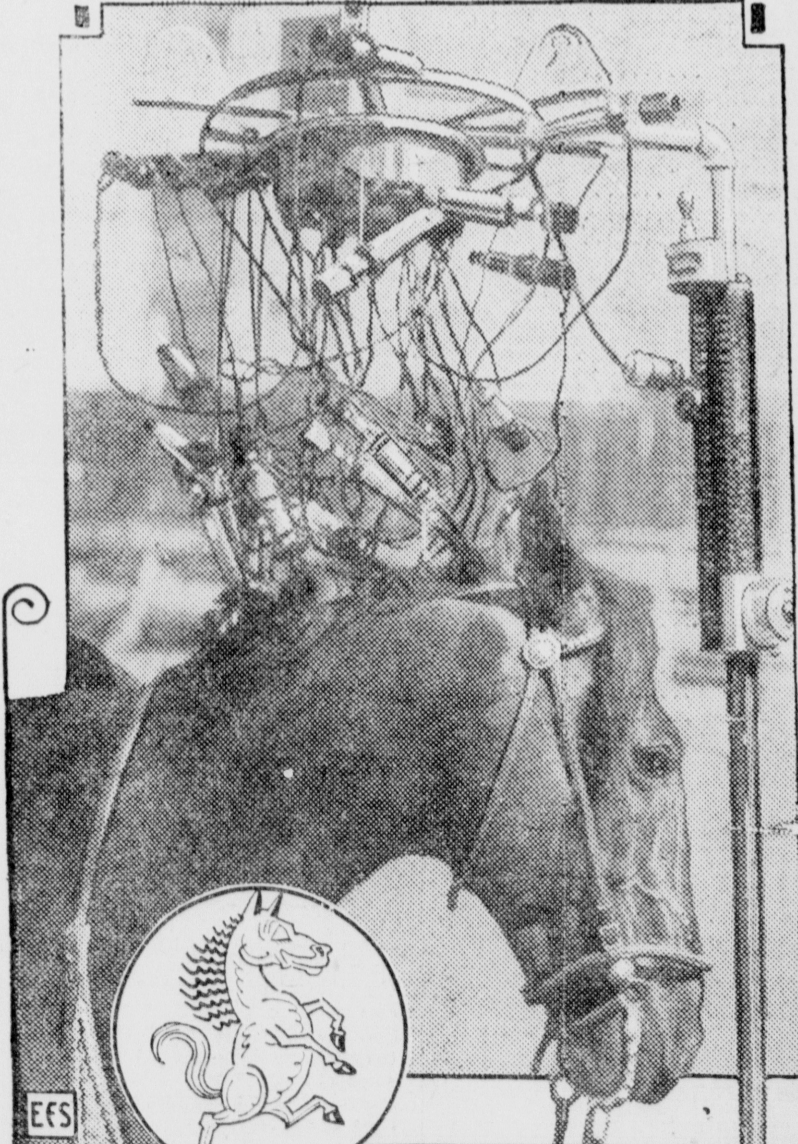

When Joseph Ferri told the San Diego police he was Joseph Pivoli, the man who killed Bill Brennan and later escaped from Sing Sing, they believed him—for a few minutes. Investigation proved that Ferri was not Pivoli, that he had not escaped from Sing Sing and that what he was really after was a free ride to New York. Now he's in jail charged with vagrancy.

MANES PERMANENTLY WAVED

No ordinary curl was good enough for "Mustang," star equine actor of the movies, so his owner, Miss Elva Simmons, found a Los Angeles beauty parlor which agreed to put a permanent wave in Mustang's mane. Just one of those things they do in the movies.

HALF MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF AVIATION

Rodman Wanamaker, New York merchant prince, has spent $450,000 on the two Americas, the seaplane built in 1914, and Commander Byrd's ship of today. Though other ships beat his to Europe, he's satisfied the money has advanced aviation.

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

The Rovin' Ritzies

By Flo Frederick

Minnow picnic proves great fun. As they catch wrigglers on the run, "Yoo-hoo! Yoo-hoo!" called Marty from the upper bank of the little stream that ran along the outskirts of the town of Mayville. "I've caught a chub. It's striped just like a rainbow perch and has a streak of red."

"Great," answered Tag, from the sluggish end of the stream. "I can't find anything but mud minnows down here."

The Ritzies had decided to catch minnows and sell them to the fish enthusiasts of Mayville. The boys had already caught a bunch of mud minnows and were keeping them in a pail which they had sunk to ground level in Marty's back yard. Today they were out after chubs, shiners and suckers and so far hadn't had such very good luck. All six members of the Ritzie club had turned out for what they called their minnow picnic. Even Bill, who lived on the other side of town and very seldom got over for club affairs, had arrived with a fishing net and a tin can of fish worms ready to do his part.

Things were growing more exciting now as the boys began to recognize the different kinds of minnows. First one would call out the stream that ran along the outskirts of the town of Mayville. "I've caught a chub. It's striped just like a rainbow perch and has a streak of red."

"Great," answered Tag, from the sluggish end of the stream. "I can't find anything but mud minnows down here."

The Ritzies had decided to catch minnows and sell them to the fish enthusiasts of Mayville. The boys had already caught a bunch of mud minnows and were keeping them in a pail which they had sunk to ground level in Marty's back yard.

packed a basket lunch of hard-boiled eggs, peanut butter sandwiches and cookies and were now busy gathering wild ferns and moss-covered stones for their outdoor fish pond.

"What color is a sucker?" called out Rag all of a sudden.

"Why, it's silver colored and it has a blunt nose and a mouth that sucks."

"Gee, I've caught a sucker, then," cried Rag, excitedly.

"I can't catch anything but mud minnows, and little tiny ones, at that," called out the discouraged Bill.

"Are you sure they're mud minnows?"

"Why, I think so," answered Bill, who really didn't know much about fishing, or minnows either, for that matter.

"Why, that's not a mud minnow. That's a shiner!" exclaimed Marty, who had scrambled down to look at all of Bill's little tiny mud-minnows. "See how shiny it is! It's the most delicate of all the minnows."

house should have screen windows when the little fish don't even suck their noses above the water.

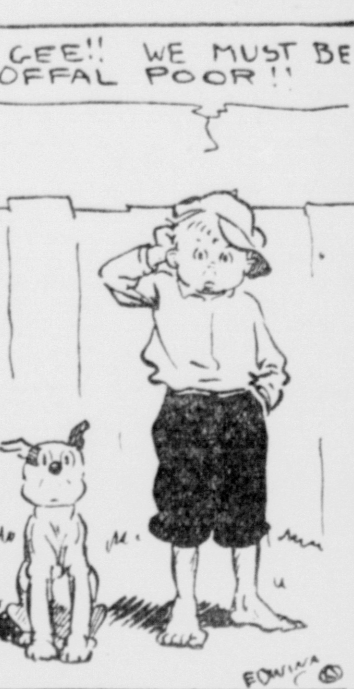

Marty found his little friends wondering about this very thing and he explained that chubs, shiners and suckers had to live in fresh, running water, and that when this house was put in the stream, the water could circulate through it and get the fish couldn't get out because of the screen wire.

He put a hinged top on the box so that it would be easy to catch the minnows any time that they were wanted for sale, and being very wise, he put a padlock on it so that he could be sure they wouldn't be taken.

With this big stock of minnows, the Ritzies worked up a nice little trade in fish bait for the summer. In fact, so many nickels and dimes and even dollars came pouring into the club that it was decided that a treasurer must be appointed, and so a meeting was called.

Read about it in tomorrow's paper.

HOME TRUSTEES ACT TO HIRE ARCHITECT FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Construction of two new cottages at the O. S. and S. O. Home and improvement of twenty others, was given impetus at the meeting of the board of trustees Saturday night when the board of control and the director of highways were authorized to retain an architect to begin preliminary work.

The architect will be under supervision of the state architect's office and Director of Highways G. F. Schlesinger, who is in charge of public buildings. Tentative plans for the remodeling of the twenty other cottages will be submitted as soon as possible in order to get the work under way before August 9, when the appropriation fund becomes available.

As soon as plans are approved by the trustees and the state architect's office, bids will be advertised for and the work gotten under way. No other business was transacted at the meeting.

XENIA CELEBRATES HOLIDAY QUIETLY

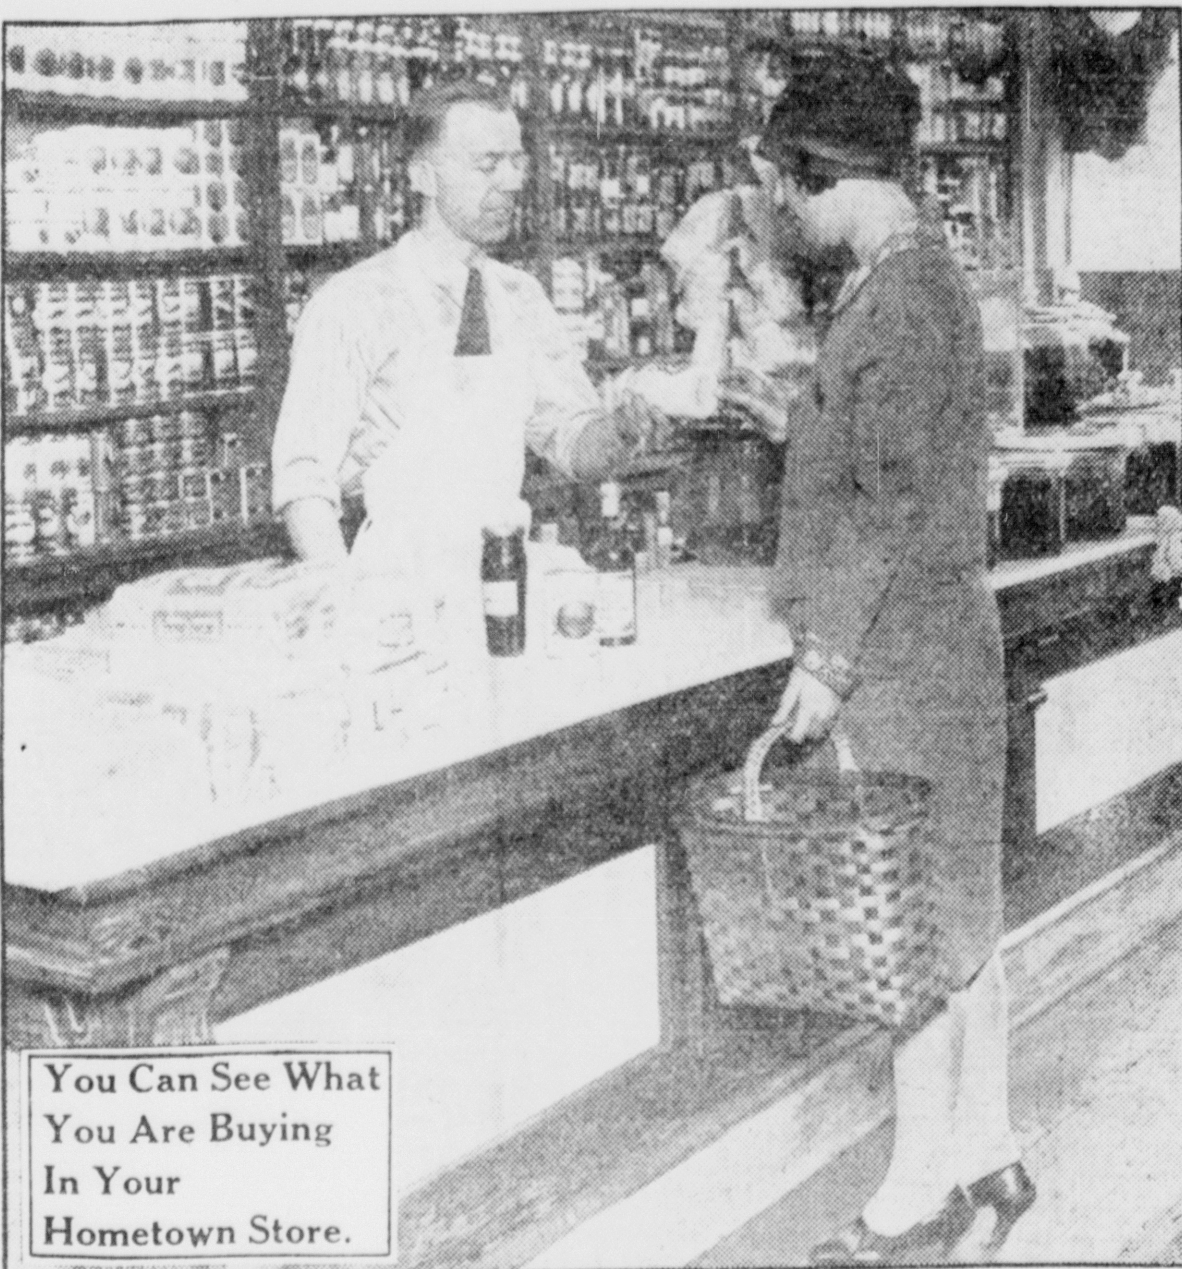

Xenia elected to celebrate the one hundred and fifty-first anniversary of American independence in a quiet manner Monday and the only Fourth of July reminders were the occasional "bangs" of firecrackers and the usual display of flags.

The customary shutdown of official and unofficial business included the closing of the post office, Court House, City Hall, factories and places of business.

It was a "safe Fourth" for the city in every sense of the word for no serious accidents were reported, including no auto accidents and no injuries from exploding firecrackers.

Police reported no arrests. There was only one small fire.

YOU DON'T BUY BLIND WHEN YOU BUY AT HOME

You Can See What You Are Buying In Your Hometown Store.

Pictures are pretty, but the wear is in the goods. The proof of the pudding is in the eating. You are buying a picture of something you've never seen, made by an artist you've never heard of.

For a merchant who doesn't know you from the King of Siam.

But when you walk into your hometown store, you see what you purchase, you can discuss its value with the storekeeper or the clerk who serves you, and if you don't want it, you can refuse it—on the spot.

If the transaction is a matter of exchange, you can complete it in a few minutes time.

And the money you pay stays in your community.

Buy at home. It's good business.

MERRILL THEY ROLL ALONG
KANSAS CITY, Kan.—Anna Catherine Setzling graduated from High School at Manhattan, Kas., recently, and her mother, Mrs. Henry Setzling, was right there to see Anna get her diploma. She arrived, normally by train, from her home at Havana, Ill., 400 miles away. But the idea of returning home by train was much too commonplace for Anna. Walking didn't appeal, either and hitch-hiking was just too common for anything. So it happened that the conservative citizens of Manhattan were astonished the other morning to see on their main street the unusual spectacle of the 41-year-old mother and her high school daughter roller skating their way out of town. They skated the full 400 miles and said afterward, it was lots of fun.

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"

Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

WOMEN CAN NOW DO MORE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Keeps Them Well

Fifty years ago there were few occupations for women. Some taught school, some did housework, some found work to do at home and a few took up nursing.

Today there are very few occupations not open to women. Today they work in great factories with hundreds of other women and girls. There are also women architects, lawyers, dentists, executives, and legislators. But all too often a woman wins her economic independence at the cost of her health.

Mrs. Elizabeth Chamberlain who works in the Unionall factory making overalls writes that she got "wonderful results" from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mrs. Chamberlain lives at 500 Monmouth St., Trenton, N. J. She recommends the Vegetable Compound to her friends in the factory and will gladly answer any letters she gets from women asking about it.

Are you on the Sunlit Road to Better Health?

What she has to say to him, the final chapter tells.

The Theatre

By FLEET SMITH

NEW YORK, July 5.—The veteran and inveterate New York theater-goer has discovered during the last several months that his favorite byway, Broadway, has gone almost entirely "movie." The legitimate theaters have virtually all been shunted over to the side-streets and Flo Ziegfeld has gone so far as to take his new theater away over to Sixth Avenue and Fifty-fourth St.

Taking a stand on Broadway at Times Square, Forty-second Street, and looking northward, an observer will quickly realize the truth of the statement that the moving pictures have captured "The Great White Way." The first sight that would greet the eye, to the left or west side of the Street, would be the Rialto theater, where Paramount places its pictures after they have completed their big premiere runs; across the street is the Criterion Theater, also used by Paramount for its roadshows. Then, of course, comes the Paramount building and theater at the "crossroads of the world," Times Square at 43rd Street.

Further on up the street one would see the "King of Kings" at the Gaiety, "The Big Parade" at the Astor, "The Garden of Allah" at the Embassy, "Camille" at the Globe, "In Old San Francisco" at Warner Bros. Theater; he also would see the Capitol and Strand running new pictures weekly; he would see Loew's New York, and Loew's State, both big picture houses; as a matter of fact the Winter Garden is about the only exclusively legitimate house along the famous street from Forty-second Street to Columbus Circle at 59th Street.

An era of sensible productions, sensible expenditures on production and sensible salaries for stars and executives has been inaugurated in moving pictures and the only wonder it has caused is why it has not been started long ago. Fabulous amounts have been spent on stupendous productions and almost unheard of salaries have been so-called stars and directors, even if you allow for a healthy discount on press agent salaries and production costs. Jesse L. Lasky has announced for Paramount that the leading executives have accepted a 25 per cent reduction in salary and that a ten per cent cut in all salaries over $50 a week go into effect in the California studios.

DESPONDENCY BECAUSE OF ILL HEALTH BLAMED FOR SUICIDE

Despondent because of continued ill health, Leander Luck, 69, fired a .38 calibre revolver into his right ear, in the rear of the garage, at his residence, 12 Elm St., Monday morning at 6:30 o'clock. He died immediately.

Members of his family and neighbors heard the report of the gun, but believing it was a firecracker, did not investigate. Thomas Corrigan, who lives next door, saw the body lying behind the garage about two hours later. Mr. Luck had placed an overcoat on the ground and laid down, before firing the gun.

The dead man had been in failing health and had been unable to work for about three weeks. He underwent an operation a year ago. He had been employed at the Hoover and Allison Cordage Mills a number of years.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Anna Luck and three sons, Oral and Howard Luck of Dayton and Clarence, at home. One brother, the Rev. Charles Luck, Independence, Kan., and one sister, Mrs. Amanda McCollum, Georgetown, O., also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the residence Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock with interment in Woodland Cemetery. Services will be private, but friends may call at the Luck home after 4 p. m., Wednesday afternoon.

Are You Economically Free?

Over 150 years ago a proclamation was issued which contained among other "self evident truths" this statement:

"...all experience has shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed."

Human nature hasn't changed much in a century and a half, and perhaps this bit of philosophy could be studied to advantage by those unfortunate people who are always complaining. "How I wish I could get out of debt!" They realize the foolishness of spending Tomorrow's dollar Today, but they seem incapable of "abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed."

The J. C. Penney Company policy of paying cash as you go is the quickest and easiest way of getting the family budget on a sound thrift basis.

Why not make a Declaration of Independence today, all of your own, and throw off forever the slavery of those First-Of-The-Month bills.
